Leadership. It is just a word tossed about casually and constantly, an election issue, or a lost trait of an earlier generation? When we lack it, it gets the blame for many of our society's problems. And lately, it has been getting the blame more and more. For a solid future we must have it.

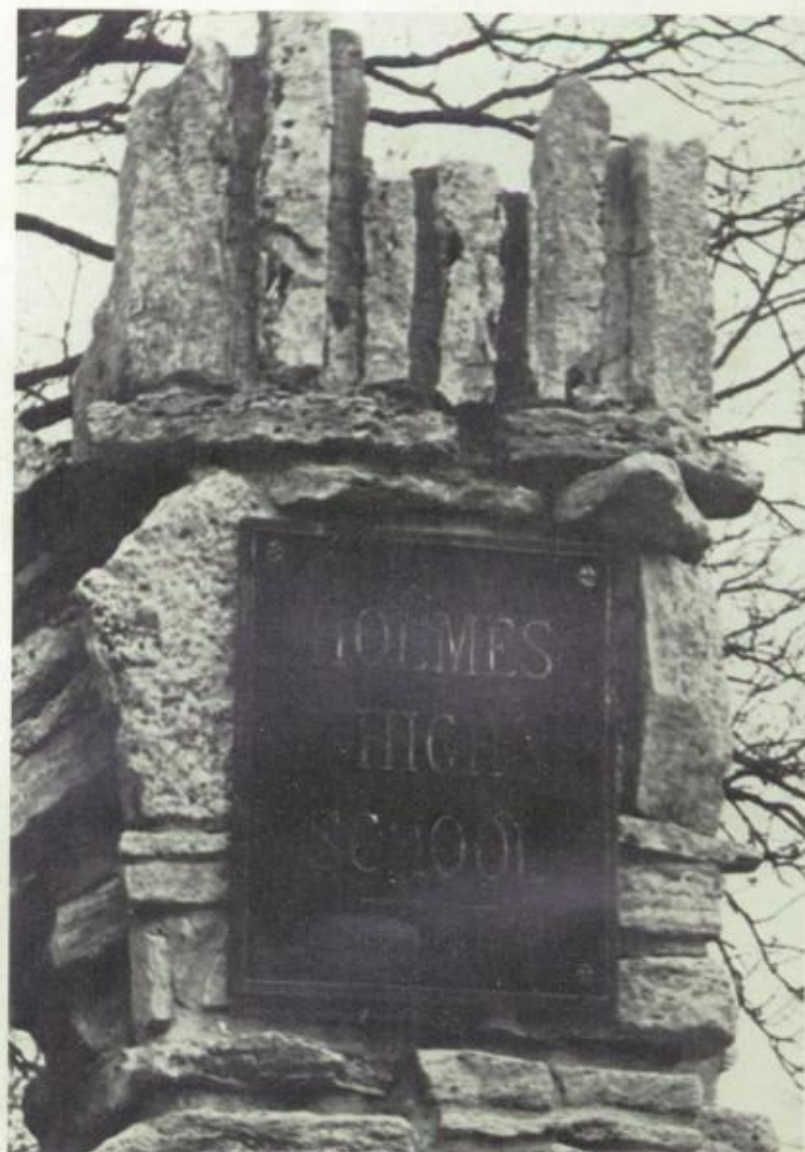

Where does it develop? Right here. High school is preparation for the outside world and preparation for leadership. Right here, people who have the vision and drive to better themselves and society prepare for tomorrow, the big step. We are surrounded by examples of leadership in school. We see it in such diverse activities as football games, classroom lectures and projects, car washes, and council meetings.

Today's football captain may be tomorrow's lawyer, that girl dissecting the frog may become tomorrow's doctor; the guy washing the cars for his club may become tomorrow's financial wizard; the council member may be tomorrow's civic leader.

Here is where they all begin. Leadership is a quality that we may be sorely lacking, but we have the seeds for a new crop right here in this garden called Holmes High School.

Sophomores Help Lead Men Tracksters

Track is as much an individual sport as a team sport. The members of the track team learn self-discipline as well as leadership. Everyone has to work on their own and achieve their own goals. There is a captain chosen by the team members. The person who shows leadership and does the most to benefit the team is elected captain. This year's captain was Terry Jagers.

The sophomores have played a big part in the success of the team this year. With the loss of four seniors, the sophomores filled in and did a fine job. Coach Charles Jenkins is looking to the future with great expectations of all underclassmen. He also feels the sprinters will be in good shape in the near future. The track team of 1976 compiled a winning season record of 5-3. In addition to the success of the sophomores, another highlight of the season was the victory over perennial rival, Highlands.

The girls track team got off to a slow start; they lost a meet that most people figured they would win which was against Boone Co. However, Mr. Binkley, Coach, felt that it was going to be a good year, and his positive thinking paid off. The girl's had a record of 14 wins and 1 loss. They placed fifth in the Bellevue, Lloyd, and Boone Co. Invitationals. Also, they placed fifth in the Conference. Although they were defeated in the state tournament, they did place first in the regional.

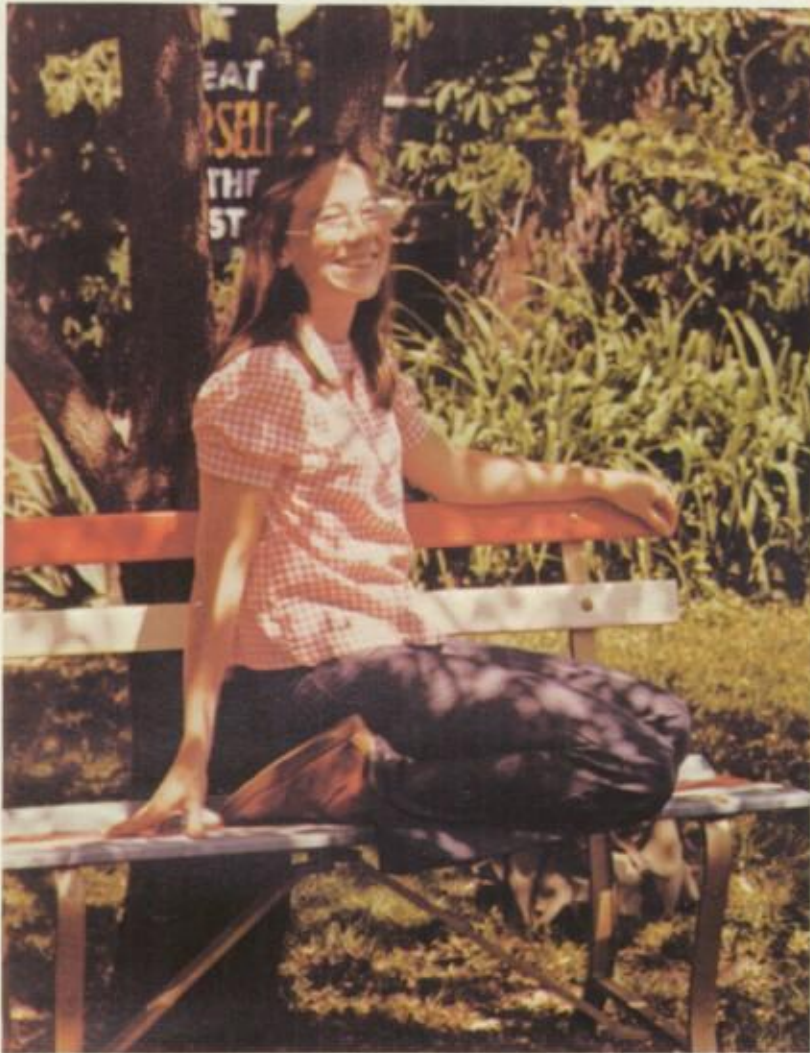

Track is a sport which brings to the students an opportunity for them to show their leadership qualities in this area of competition. These athletes can bring their talents to the front; especially a small girl who may not be capable of playing basketball or volleyball but can show her talent by running, jumping, and throwing.

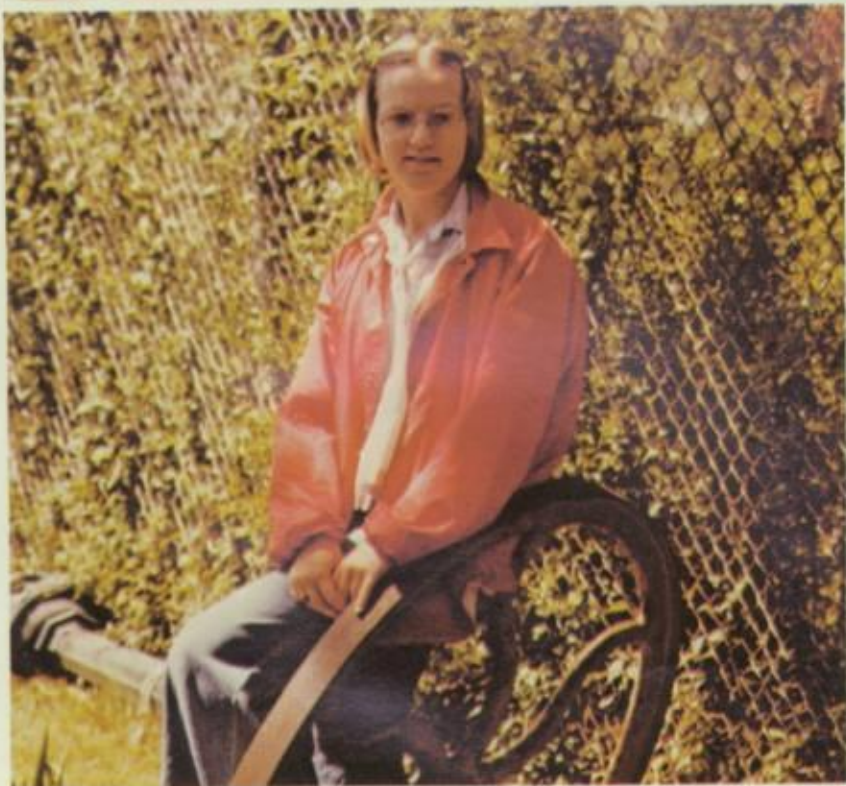

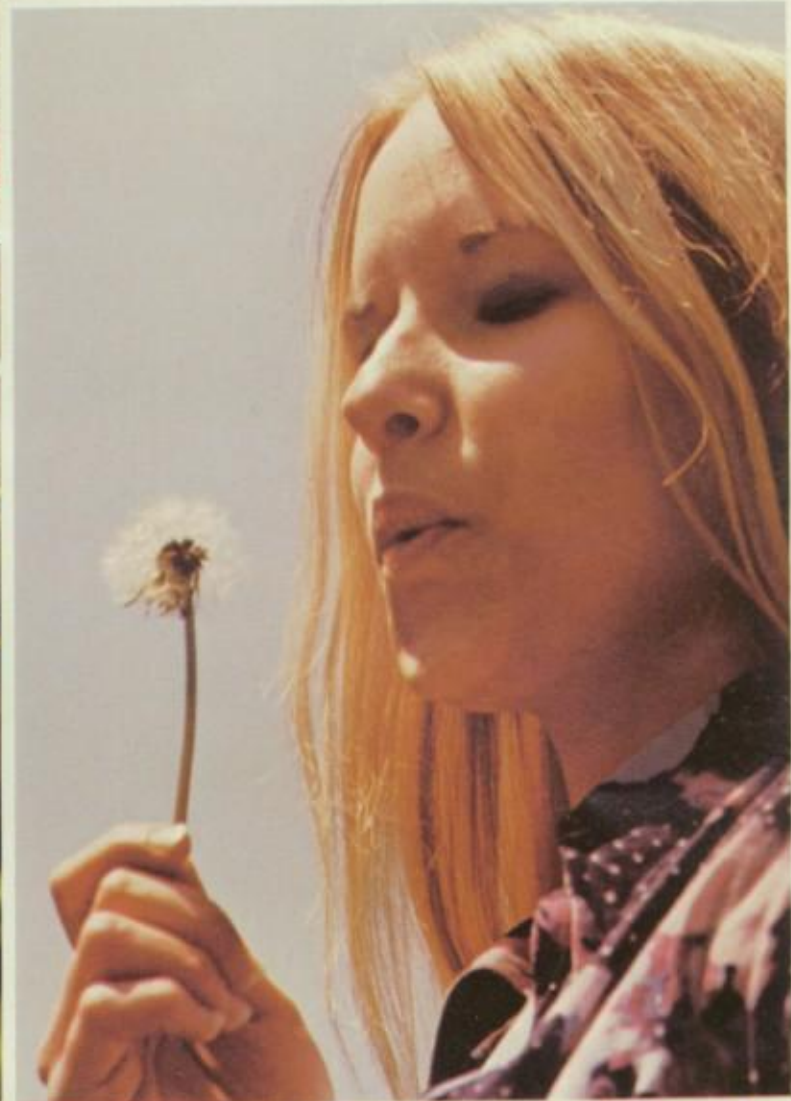

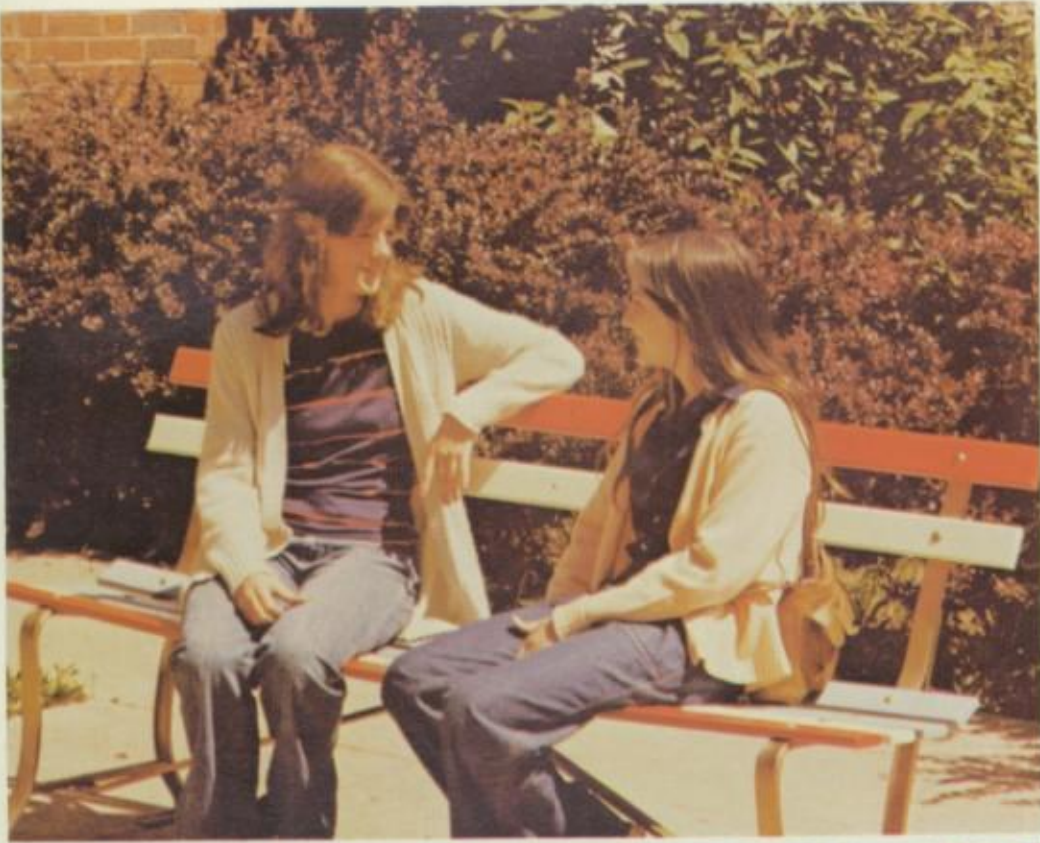

No particular event brings out leadership in the girls more than the others. It is strictly up to the individual. Sheri Raisor was one who showed this quality. She had a factor which helped to unify the team. Melody Wolfe led the team with her drive to do better and her fine attitude. Brenda McKinstry set an example to her teammates by her positive attitude and her efforts to attempt every task. Mr. Binkley commented, "I think all the girls showed fine leadership. They worked hard and won and gained much respect from people."

Mr. Binkley said, "The only improvements I'd like to see made in the upcoming team is a refining and perfecting of techniques. The talent is there; we just need to develop it further."

Top Right: Around 8:00 a.m., students dismount the buses and head for a day at school. Top Left: Students saunter along the Junior High sidewalk as morning traffic creeps down the drive. Middle Left: Before homeroom, a few girls congregate on the steps. Middle Right: Paula Flesch reads the pledge to the flag and the announcements during homeroom period. Bottom Left: Mr. Young's homeroom recites the pledge to the flag. Bottom Right: After the bell rings, students rush to their classes during the four minute exchange.

On May 7, 1976, school dismissed early, and the tension and excitement began to build. How will my hair look? Will the flowers be ready? A million and one questions ran through our minds. So many plans and arrangements had to be made in order for this prom to be the best ever.

Those attending the prom, hosted at Quality Inn, enjoyed the music of "Threshold", and the after-prom, held at Roll-n-Bowl, rocked to the music of "Swan".

For the 16 girls and guys on the Prom Court, this night brought new excitement and questions. Could it be me?

The Prom ran smoothly and was a great success as students flashed pictures of their friends and talked of how beautiful the evening was.

At approximately 10:00, the moment everyone had awaited arrived. The 1976 Prom attendants were announced. "Second runner up, Miss Paula Flesch and Tony Church. First runner up, Miss Louise Riesenberg and Larry Meyer." The room quieted as the 1976 Prom King and Queen were announced. "Mr. Jim Cobb and Miss Lisa Vanlandingham!" Last year's King and Queen, Mark Hafner and Carol Baker, were on hand to crown the new couple.

As the King and Queen danced the traditional dance, the excitement of the night ran through their minds.

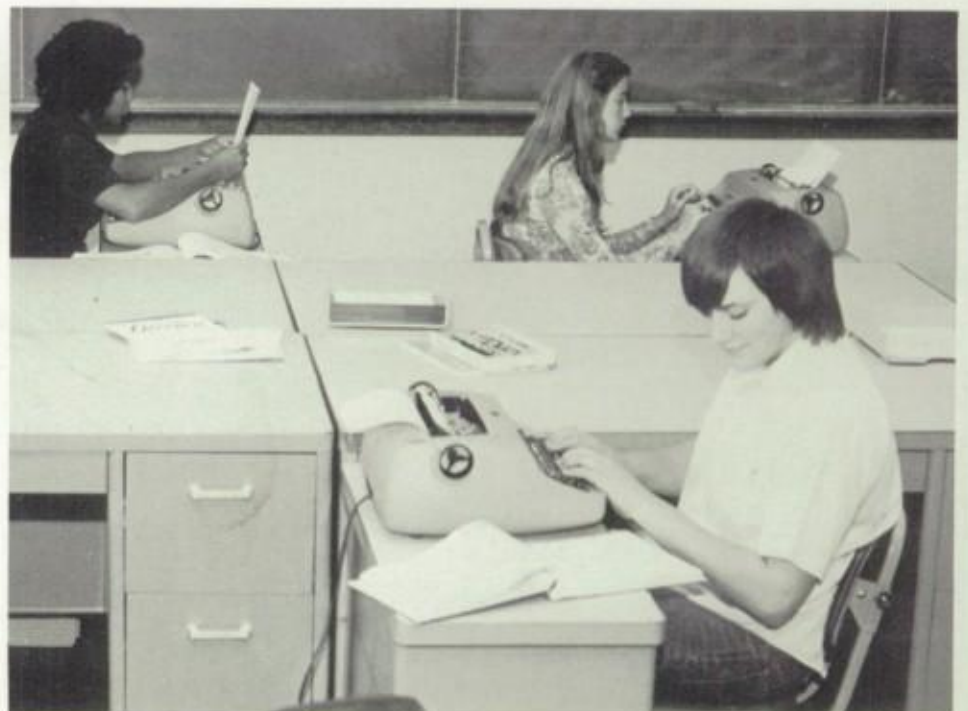

It was a glorious evening and everything was perfect. Although it was over all too soon, the memories will linger to be enjoyed forever.

The class of 1977, sponsors Miss Janet Clark and Mr. Gary Huhn, would like to thank all patrons of the 1976 Junior Prom who made it such a great success. The best of luck is extended to the class of 1978 to make their prom flow as smoothly as ours.

What's New in Business?

Model Office

This year a new addition to the business course, the Model Office Program, was introduced. Model Office gives the students a realistic office situation in which they can combine their clerical skills. The course coordinates the skills taught in previous years with leadership and responsibility. Interpersonal relationships are very important in order to efficiently run a business. Model Office teaches skills that prove valuable after graduation when applying for a job.

The program accommodates up to 20 students and lasts for two hours a day. Each of the students has specific jobs ranging from receptionist, typist, and file clerk to payroll and mail clerk.

Thousands of dollars were spent on the new machines. The office is furnished with secretarial desks and chairs. Each desk has an IBM Selectric typewriter or one of the three different models of calculators purchased. The office is also provided with dictaphones and copiers. Mr. Sebastian, who teaches Model Office, hopes to have a phone system installed in the near future.

One adjustment he would like to see next year is to have the students become more acquainted with the program in order to have scheduling run smoothly next year. But everyone in the Business department agrees that Model Office should make it easier for students to become the business leaders of tomorrow.

Leadership begins with book knowledge. Before one becomes a good leader, he must have an understanding of what he must deal with. Only then can he continue learning leadership through experience. Academics give the students the fundamentals they need to be fine leaders.

CHOIR INVOLVES TEAMWORK

Mr. John Maloney, the choir director, is very intelligent in the field of music. He has had a career with the Opera Theater of Rochester (N.Y.) and has performed with many big names such as Leonard Bernstein. He came here 2 years ago and started a fine choir.

"The people in choir are leaders in their own way," states Mr. Maloney, "They are active in many things. Activity is the first step in becoming a leader." The choir has to be responsible for their actions; they must know what they have to do and they do it.

No one student leads the choir. It is all done by working together, by team work. This factor has made our choir one of the leading groups in the area. Even though they have much to learn, they are one of the "up and coming groups in the area."

The choir is a very large group. Seventy-eight students make up the regular choir, 35 are in ensemble and there are 18 chamber singers. Superior ratings have been won everywhere appearances have been made. Five of the members, Tammy Race, George Starks, Debbie Tucker, Judy Lake, and Becky Stenger, made All-State Choir, a great honor.

Mr. Maloney would like to thank the administration for being receptive to requests, supportive for time off from school, giving extra money for music, and especially for being cooperative.

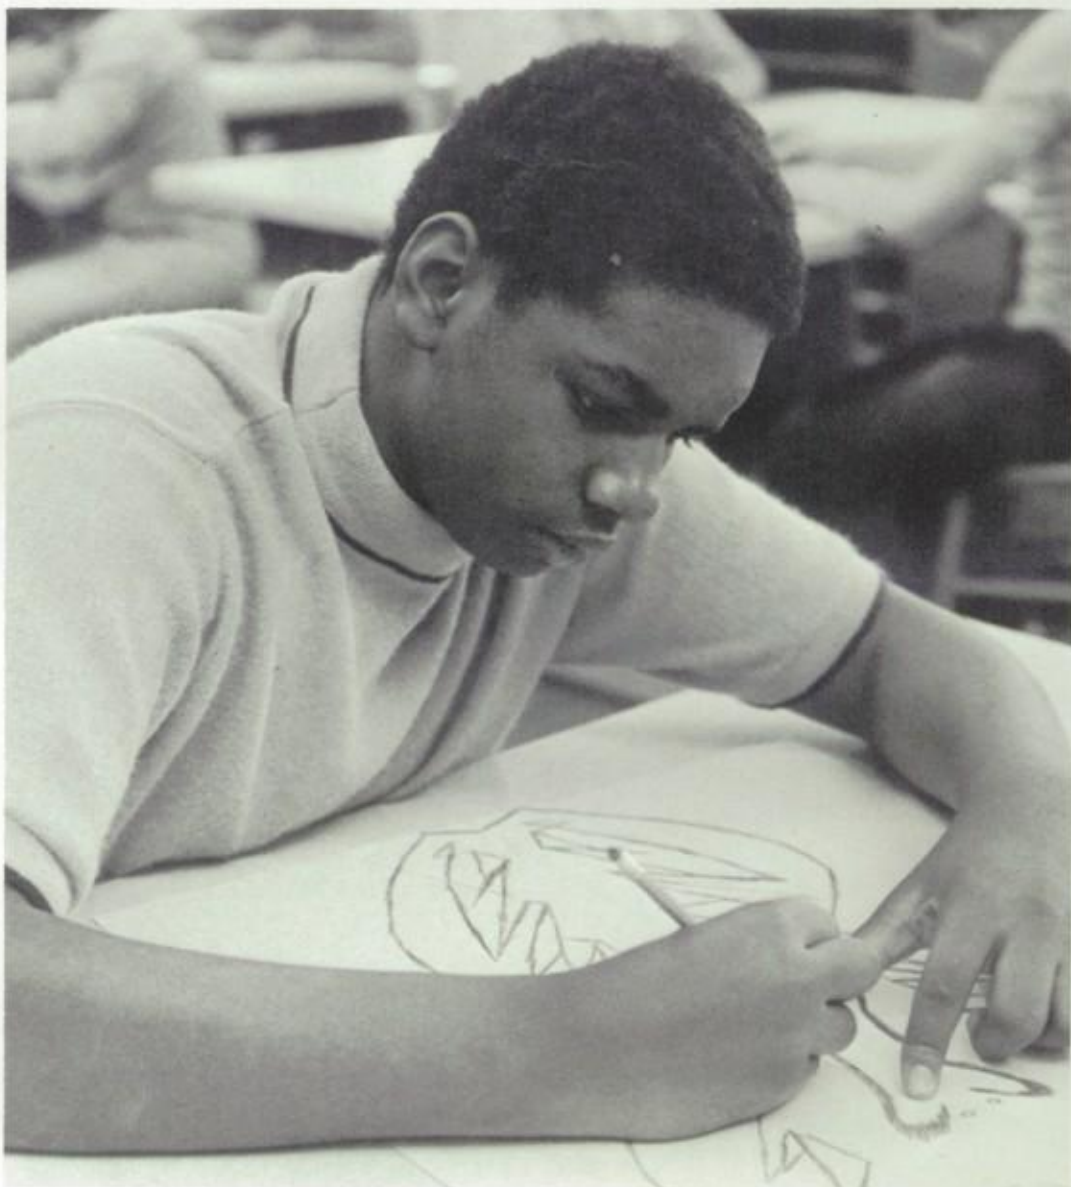

Art Makes Students Aware

The Art Department consists of three teachers and one student teacher. They work hard trying new methods to improve the department. Some new projects they have attempted successfully are puppet-making and the construction of wire mobiles. The students seemed to enjoy these new projects very much. The older students tried their hands at large sculptures and three-dimensional murals.

The art courses are not just to help the student discover and develop what talents he might have. They are taught in such a way that they also make the student more concerned with beauty in the world around him. A person can use what he has learned in art class to provide a pleasing atmosphere in his home. Art can also make a person more aware of his appearance. As Miss Nordheim says "Art is fun, if your'e willing to work at it."

New Math Here to Stay

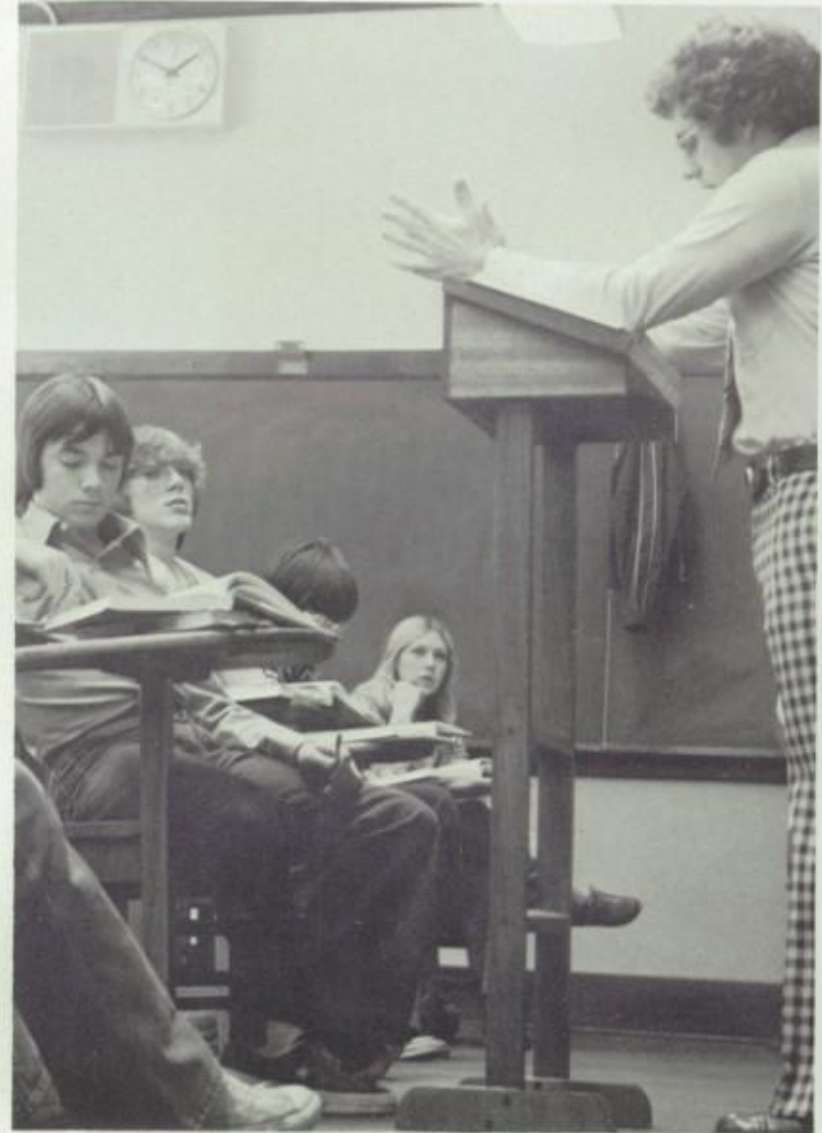

Our Math Department is really adding things up. They're looking into individualized instruction. This would enable each student to receive individual help in the specific areas he may have trouble with. Math teachers would like to see this individualized instruction offered in all math courses. There is a possibility that this new method of teaching could begin in the 1978-79 school year, for 8th, 9th, and 10th grade students.

Math has really gained more importance in our society, lately. With all the technological discoveries and the computer and space age, math is the basis of our society. Mr. Harris feels that the New Math concept is here to stay. New Math doesn't consist of new problems, but of new ways of working them out. It is more of a "discovery" method. Instead of just being taught how to work problems, students are also taught why they're worked that way. He feels that this is a great improvement in the area of mathematics.

Foreign Language Gains Interest

Leadership in foreign languages helps prepare students for later life. Communication between foreign countries, especially leaders, is becoming increasingly important. Students having leadership qualities may wish to seek careers in foreign languages.

Mr. Krey feels student interest is on an uprise.

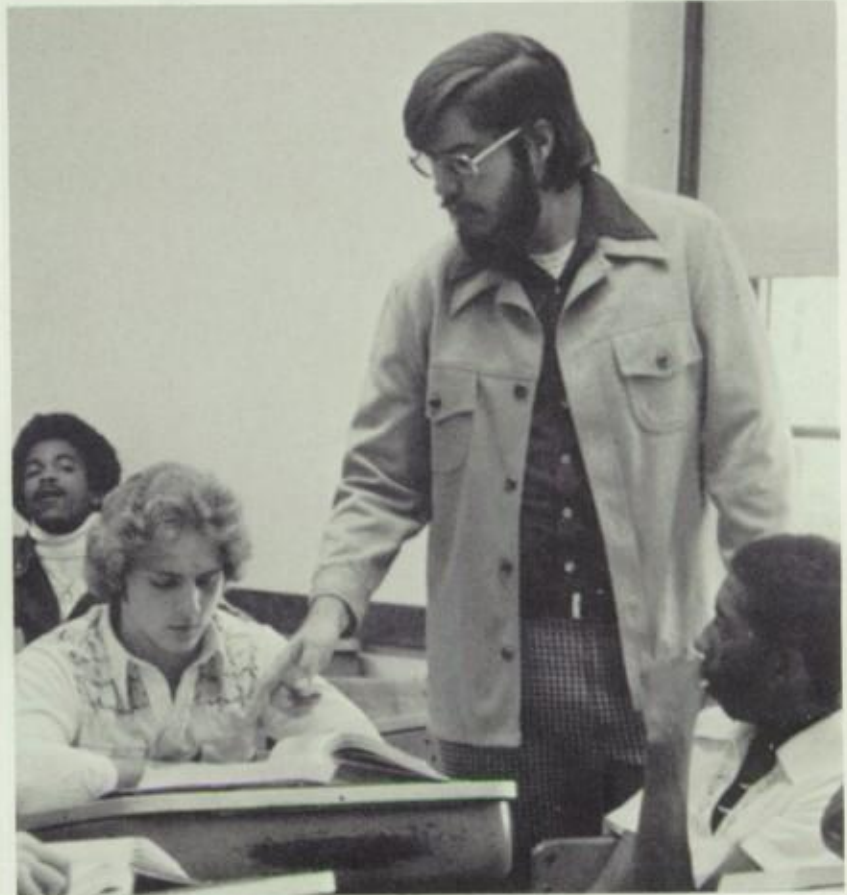

"In previous years, student interest has increased," stated the French and Spanish teacher. "I would like to see student interest kept at this high level." This year, interest seemed to be evenly divided between the 3 languages taught. The choice of 3 languages requires students to choose the languages they are most interested in. This interest sets up better learning situations between students and teachers.

Foreign language department head, Mr. Krey revealed that the purchase of new French textbooks was the only major change this year.

Social Studies Built on Leadership

"Good leaders know what great leaders have done," replied Mr. Truitt, Social Studies Department Head. "Leadership is a combination of personality and knowledge."

Knowledge is acquired through learning. The course, Social Studies, provides records of previous great leaders and events for student studies. No other subject deals with leadership as deeply. The basis of Social Studies is built on leadership.

Unlike past years, enrollment in Social Studies classes is divided evenly between the 6 Social Studies Department classes.

Students now choose specific subjects that interest them; therefore they more eagerly learn. Mr. Truitt feels Social Studies teachers hold an advantage over most because of this.

Each year Social Studies Department teachers order new filmstrips and materials to make their classes as interesting and informative as possible.

SCIENCE HARMONIZES WITH CURRENT EVENTS

The Science department is gaining importance in the school. Many teachers have begun to apply more lab work to the classes. A few classes in the Junior department are becoming more involved in experiments. Most Junior building classes are interested in experimenting, but lack the proper equipment.

Science classes make the student more aware of his environment and of his feelings about nature. Science also harmonizes with many current events, such as the numerous oil spills suffered this year. The more advanced courses offer a basis for careers in nursing, other types of medicine, meteorology, space technology, and more.

However, as Mrs. Moore said, "There is a definite need for more interest in the advanced science courses."

PHASE ELECTIVE WELL-LIKED

Phase Elective English is now in its second trial year at Holmes. Chairperson Mrs. Heil feels that all of the students show individuality by picking their own classes. Phase Elective English is only taught in the senior high; in the first quarter, all students take one type of grammar class. It is at the end of this quarter that students choose what they would like to take the rest of the year. Since all of this is left up to the individual, leadership and responsibility is needed.

Students in this unique English program do like it better than the traditional English where students stay in one class all year. At the end of last year, a poll was taken of 433 students; 376 liked the new style, 44 liked the traditional, and 13 had no response.

The reason for this overwhelming success seems to be having four different classes. If a person doesn't like a class, he only has to stay for ten weeks. What all this means is a whole new start for everyone. If a failing grade is made, the $\frac{1}{4}$ credit is usually made up the next year instead of in summer school.

The only change that has been made this year was the switch of the necessary class for juniors; composition was added. No changes are scheduled for the immediate future.

CAREER ED. STRIVES FOR SUCCESS

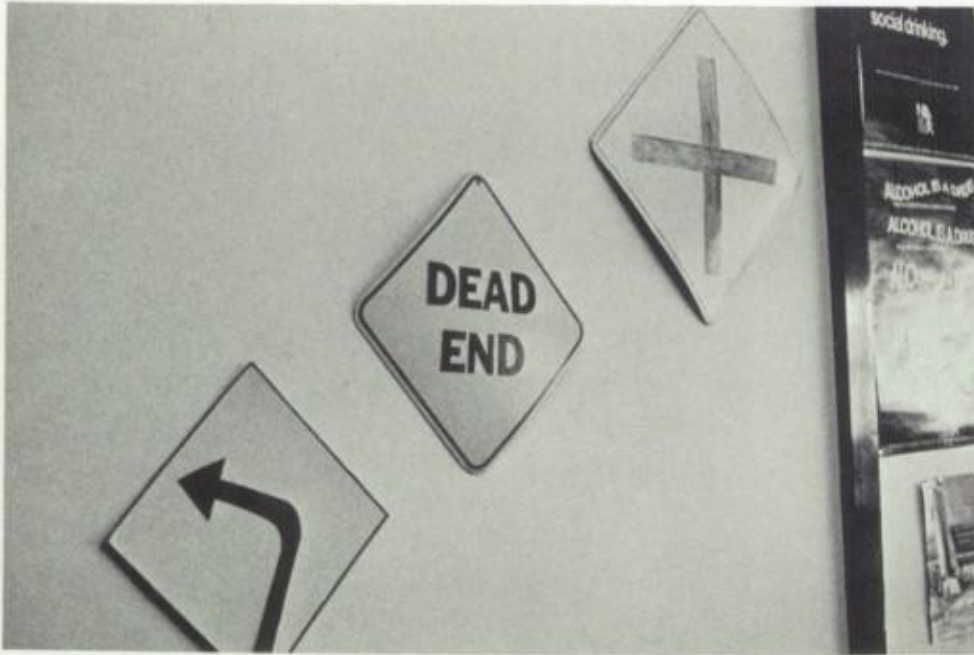

The Career Education course is a new program designed to introduce types of careers and practical skills. These skills will help the student when he enters the working world. The various careers, recreation, hospitality, health, home economics, business, social services, and construction, are introduced to the students by means of field trips, filmstrips, movies, guest speakers, and role-playing. The principles of leadership are also taught in this program. This involves working with ideas about striving for success. Many students will use what they have learned to become leaders in the world of work.

So far, the students seem to enjoy the course and many learn of careers totally new to them. Although the program is restricted to Jr. High, the teachers agree that the course should include the Sr. High.

Mr. Terry Johnson, the driver education teacher, is in his second year of teaching "road runners." He feels that he teaches leadership by helping his students be good drivers so that, in time, they will lead others to be good drivers. The key to the whole system is courtesy.

The student works by getting a temporary license or permit and then spending time in class studying road rules. Next, the students go out and actually drive during class time. Parallel parking is the hardest thing to teach.

Mr. Johnson hopes to expand the successful class so that more students will take it. The drivers aren't very good at the beginning, but by the end they are safe. Hopes for better education are being carried out by getting a new textbook for next year.

SPECIAL ED. AND REMEDIAL READING POPULAR

Special Education is becoming more and more productive. The staff has been enlarged so that many more students can be brought into the program. There are seven special ed. teachers. The secret of their success is their resourcefulness and individualized work with the students. The program was greatly improved when the staff departmentalized. Another improvement is the support received from the other teachers.

Remedial reading has been doing well for 4 years. It was developed to enable the student to progress to his highest potential. It is a non-graded course which helps the individual to increase his reading level, improve his grades and, in some cases, his behavior. The program is so popular that more teachers are needed. There are three teachers in the program and about 200 students per grade level who need the course.

When talking about support, Mrs. Kloentrup said, "The reading teachers appreciate the cooperation received from the other teachers, because without it there could be no reading program."

LEADERSHIP, SKILL, EFFICIENCY -

Leadership, skill, efficiency — each are important keys to a productive office. Each quality is highly stressed through various classes under the Business Department.

The classes are arranged in a unique way: students showing leadership can progress further with extra assignments.

The Business Department went under extensive changes with the addition of the new Model Office course. Besides the expense of this program, it also decreased the average class size. Smaller classes bring many advantages. It is easier to base assignments on group progress and closer student-teacher relationships are now possible.

Typing and shorthand are just the basic classes. Office Machines take the basics one step further with the teaching of the dictaphone, advanced typing and use of three calculators.

IMPORTANT TO PRODUCTIVE OFFICE

Bottom Left: Keeping an anxious eye on the board, Mrs. Kirkhoff's class watches the score of their shorthand game. Bottom Right: Shelley Armstrong and Glenda Jackson race with their skills in shorthand to win the game. Page 31. Top Left: Mr. Lynch explains the accounting cycle to a few members of his class. Top Right: Punching the adding machine buttons, Julie Drahman works on her job packets. Bottom Left: Dorthea Porterfield types some business forms for make-up work. Bottom Right: Lois Hill works on an exercise in her office machines book.

31

INDUSTRIAL ARTS ADDS NEW COURSE

32

Working together where each student is in charge of his discipline creates an atmosphere of cooperation and responsibility. This is the aim of the Industrial Arts Department. Students showing leadership are elected to demonstrate a particular tool or some other responsible job.

At one time, this course was looked upon as a class for students who couldn't make it in other classes. This is not the case any longer with the addition of Career Education. In this course each eighth grade student in Industrial Arts learns trades in leather crafts, silk screening, sheet metal, tinwork and other techniques. This course is an invaluable learning process. Getting acquainted with this type of work often helps interested students when choosing a career.

Home economics, like many other courses, is focusing great attention on teaching leadership and preparing students for their future lives.

Home economics was originally geared to teach domestic skills to those students who planned to set up housekeeping right after graduation. Now the course has been revised to also accommodate students who plan to go to college.

Leadership is an important quality taught in home economics. In order to run an efficient household, leadership has to be exercised. Those who take economics have an advantage over most in several areas.

Cooking, sewing and other invaluable topics such as interior design are taught in this one year course.

In the future, this course will be referred to as practical arts. It will introduce boy and girl students to the careers available in this line of work.

Field trips are arranged to give the students a first hand look at the different areas they have studied in the classroom.

Co-ED GYM CLASSES FORM

The opening of this school year also marked the opening of a new physical education program, co-ed gym.

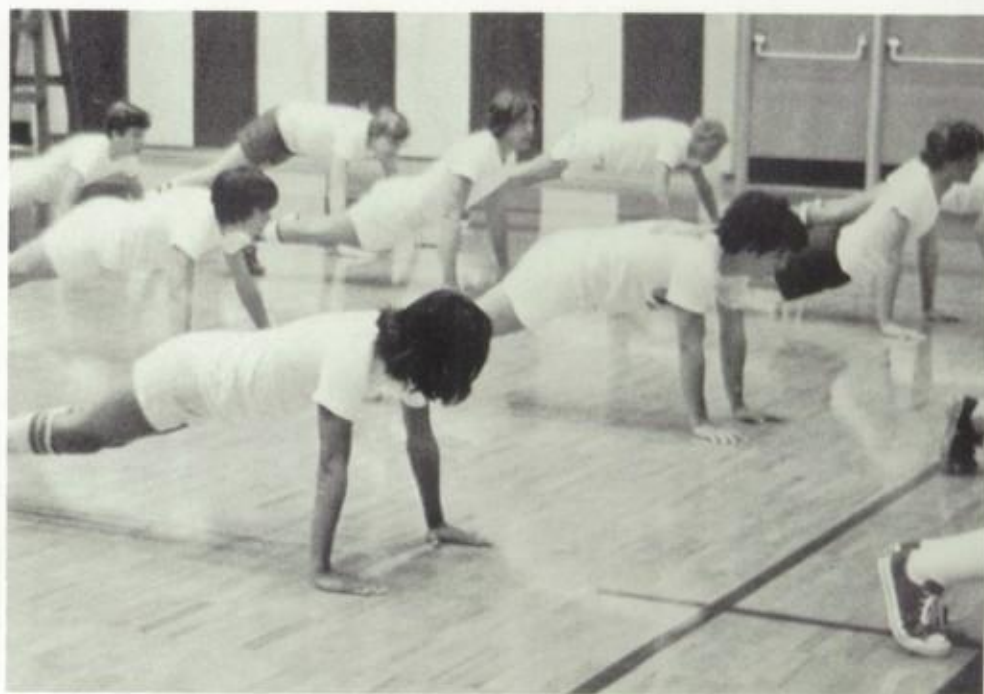

Each class is assigned two teachers, male and female. These two teachers, decide what sports are to be taught through the year.

Students who show leadership qualities are sometimes picked to lead the classes in exercises, or sports in which the student plays especially well.

With each new program usually a few minor problems appear. The only real problem with co-ed gym classes is the lack of space. A large number of students in each class makes it harder for the class to be on a personal basis.

Mr. Tom Runge, who taught here half a year last year, was asked if he preferred co-ed gym to the traditional classes. "I liked all-boy classes because that's what I was used to," replied the smiling blonde teacher. "We'll just have to wait and see which I prefer later."

When asked if he thought co-ed gym would make the students work harder he replied, "I believe it will help the majority of students, but there's sure to be a small percentage who will be shyer."

Top: Practicing Volleyball together, the guys and girls adjust to the co-ed gym classes. Middle: Miss Winstel watches a group of students to see if they are using proper technique in volleying. Bottom Left: Miss Winstel instructs the girls on a new exercise. Bottom: The boys do their push ups before joining the girls for practice.

Our class has come from different places and grade schools. All of us have certainly been taught techniques of leadership. We are now trying to make one of the most important decisions in our lives; where should we go from here? We want to make a decision that will benefit many people. From the way some of our leaders have performed, we hope to be finer leaders; not only in status, but in mind and heart.

THIRD ROW: Coach Donna Wolfe, Karen Schlarman, Anita Epperly, Janie Burgess, Toni Cameron, Laura Tilley, Debbie Meyer, and Coach Joan Mitchell. MISSING: Paula Flesch, Karen Kreidler, and Kim Ruth.

The Girl's Softball team was a real winner in the year of '76, finishing with a 13-4 record for the season. The girls hit hard with a team batting average of .373 and they scored 195 runs for the season. They captured third place in the League with 8 wins and just 3 losses.

The highlight of the season, however, occurred when the team earned the first N.K.A.C. title ever given to girls' softball.

Miss Donna Wolfe and Miss Joan Mitchell coached the team. Captain Tanya Carr and Most Valuable Player Anita Epperly led the girls' squad. Toni Cameron received the Most Improved Player award this season.

The captain of the team displays the most leadership by carrying the responsibility of taking care of the equipment. She also has the job of maintaining a high level of motivation in the other players.

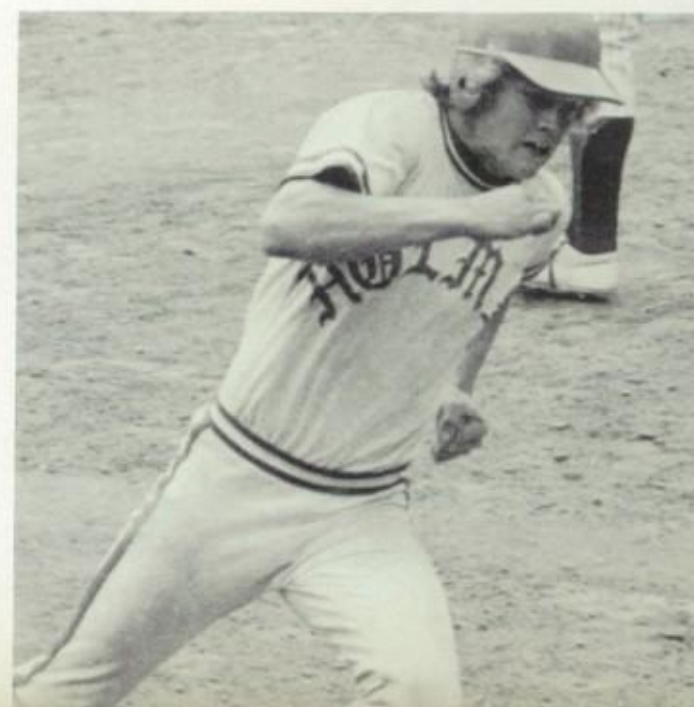

The softball team should be going strong again this season, since it lost only 3 seniors out of 18 players last season.

Mound Corps Was Strong

"This was the most pleasurable team I've ever coached," replied Tom Haney, in his 3rd year as Baseball coach.

"The leadership of the team was evident in versatile pitcher-outfielder Mike Moore, leading hitter, who averaged .397, and Rob Hartman and Jamie Morris, both outstanding fielders, who led the team in fielding. The mound corps was the strong point of the powerhouse. It was the pitching that made our team one of the leading teams in the area. Mark Moeves led all pitchers, compiling an 11-4 record."

The biggest win of the season was the semi-final game of the regional tournament when Lloyd, the team picked to be the best from this area, found themselves on the short end of a 2-1 score. George Keller stole home to capture the victory.

With a season tally of 24-17, they became a history making ball club as they broke the season record for wins.

The team fell one game short of fulfilling a personal dream of coach Haney's, that of going downstate to participate with other regional champs in the state tournament. The one loss was to Newport Cath., the eventual state runner-up.

Coach Haney hopes for the same type of performance from the upcoming squad.

New Addition: Girl's Tennis Team

Tennis is a game many people are falling in "love" with, including the members of our tennis team. The tennis team members work long, hard hours practicing on serves, backhands and new techniques.

This year a new addition was added to the tennis team. For the first time in many years, a girl's tennis team was organized. Along with this new addition came a few small problems. The lack of courts and transportation were the major ones. Mr. Ken Spurlock, with the help of Mr. Bob Lynch, brought the girls to a 2-3 season record. Although Mr. Spurlock will not coach the girl's team next year, he will be looking forward to a more competitive team. He feels there will be more girls trying out for tennis this year.

The men's tennis team looks for a bright up coming season with the return of Rick Howard and Randy Wilson. Rob Marshall and Jeff Ward will also be returning to start varsity for their second year. Both Rob and Jeff, 9th graders, had outstanding 1976 records of 10-5 and 9-6.

Mr. Spurlock would like to thank Mr. Bob Lynch for the tremendous help in coaching and transportation of the girl's tennis team.

GOLF TEAM SETS SCHOOL RECORD

One of the finest accomplishments of the season for our golfers was the setting of a school record for most matches won, nine. "They knew they had a shot at the school record and kept trying for it until they reached it," commented Coach Steve Sheehan. Although they lost two straight matches and things looked grim, they never gave up. Out of the seventeen teams in the ninth region, our team finished a very good seventh. In the N.K.A.C., they placed tenth out of thirteen.

Golf is an individual sport in which each participant's job is to beat his individual opponent. Because of this one-on-one situation, much pressure is placed on the players. However, there are no pressures due to crowds or money. The self-satisfaction of accomplishment brings them their reward: esteem. This brings out confidence and dedication which, in turn, builds leadership qualities.

The team was led by senior Jeff Evans, who boasted a best round of 38. Larry Theissen showed expert leadership by having the best average. Presenting leadership in a different, but important, way was Jay Fossett who worked hard for three years to improve his game from 48 strokes to 40. On the whole, our golfers showed fine leadership by their good discipline record, excellent sportsmanship, and superb team co-operation.

Coach Sheehan said, "The only improvement I would like to see is more participation. Golf is open to both boys and girls and runs from March to the beginning of May."

BOWLING: INEXPENSIVE FARE TO FUN

The Girl's Bowling League is one of the largest extra-curricular activities of the school. Its success can be credited to the fact that bowling is an activity that is both relaxing and fun. Bowling is also a sport that has continually been increasing in popularity, and more and more people are becoming actively involved in this sport.

There is great competition within the league itself — Team vs. team; player vs. player. Each team is striving for the ultimate — First Place; while the bowlers themselves compete for high game, high series and high average.

The rewards are high. Trophies are awarded for first, second, third, and fourth places, high game, high series, and high average. Leadership is prevalent through the officers that are chosen each year. This year's officers are President: Krista Stephenson; Vice-President: Valerie Riffle; Secretary: Betty McConnell; Treasurer: Debbie Taylor.

Top Right: The Girl's Bowling Officers. SITTING: President Krista Stephenson, and Secretary Betty McConnell. STANDING: Treasurer Debbie Taylor, and Vice-President Valerie Riffle. Middle: Ginger Reed gladly marks the high score of her teammate.

The Boy's Bowling league consisted of 40 young men, divided into 10 teams, 4 men per team. This was the first year that Jr. building students could participate in the league. There were 8 Jr. High students, who made up 2 of the 10 teams. Mr. Bauer is the league sponsor.

Bowling has recently become a very popular sport. This is because it offers something for everyone. It is an inexpensive and competitive sport, and almost anyone can participate and do well. Bowling is really a team effort and it requires a lot of spirit to stay on top.

Girl's Cross Country Has Mental Discipline

The Girl's Cross Country team showed improvement last season with more practice and better running skills. They were bonded as a team by good sportsmanship and hard work.

Leadership is an important quality the girls must have. They must be leaders both of themselves and other team members, by dedicating themselves to such a strenuous sport both physically and mentally. Brenda McKinstry displayed her mental leadership with excellent spirit.

Coach Barry Binkley would like to see more girls interested in cross country. Almost anyone can compete and it is very rewarding. The girls are admired by other students for their determination. Cross country running takes a lot of mental discipline and the girls have it.

Cross Country Gains Victory for Self-Esteem

Cross-Country helps to develop leadership in its participants. They must discipline themselves to run and train so they will gain a victory for self-esteem.

Mr. Jenkins, coach, made up a contract stating that each member of the team must make his best effort to achieve his highest potential both as a student and an athlete, emphasizing due respect for his fellow man. If a person was late to practice, he would have to run an average from five to ten hills. If there was an unexcused penalty, five miles would have to be run. These punishments might seem harsh, but members of the team respect and obey these rules.

The top runner of the team was B.J. Bailer, who received the annual Phiedippedes Award. B.J. ran over 100 miles on his own to gain personal improvement. The award he won originated from the Greek man Phiedippedes, who was the first marathon runner and ran 26 miles to tell his country they had won a battle. The people on the Cross Country team are, to be sure, some of the best leaders of the school.

Powderpuff Goes Undefeated

Although not many people know it, there is a girls football team at Holmes, sponsored by the YMCA. The official name of the team is the Girls Powderpuff Football Team.

Powderpuff football is played with flags which are connected to a belt around the girl's waist. When a play occurs, instead of tackling, someone pulls the flag from the belt and stands on the exact spot holding the snatched flag in the air. Even though Powderpuff is not meant to be a contact sport, it is. Of the few injuries this year, only one was serious. A new play was being run in practice and one girl broke her finger. Then there were the usual bumps and bruises which were received in games.

Mr. Runge, coach, said the team had better self-control and leadership. Everyone had to work together to win all of the games they did. The defense was incredible. Not one opponent scored a touchdown against the mighty girls! Even though the team had only 24 members, they were very organized and deserved to win. The 6-0 record was the clearest indication of that.

Football Team Has Frustrating Season.

The football season was disappointing in many ways in 1976, the squad finishing with a 3-6 record and some tough-to-take losses. For instance, we led state champ Lloyd at the half before our errors gave them the game, and we lost several games by a touchdown or less. Plainly, it was a frustrating season.

Assistant coach Sheehan felt that the losses were simply the result of not working hard enough. Too many practices were missed, and not enough students come out for football, considering our enrollment.

Not just the team is at fault. Attendance was down, and some of those who did attend had poor attitudes about supporting the players. We hope this will change in '77.

On the plus side, the offense had its best season ever, averaging about 21 points a game, and the team did play good, tough, clean football, even getting compliments from the referees.

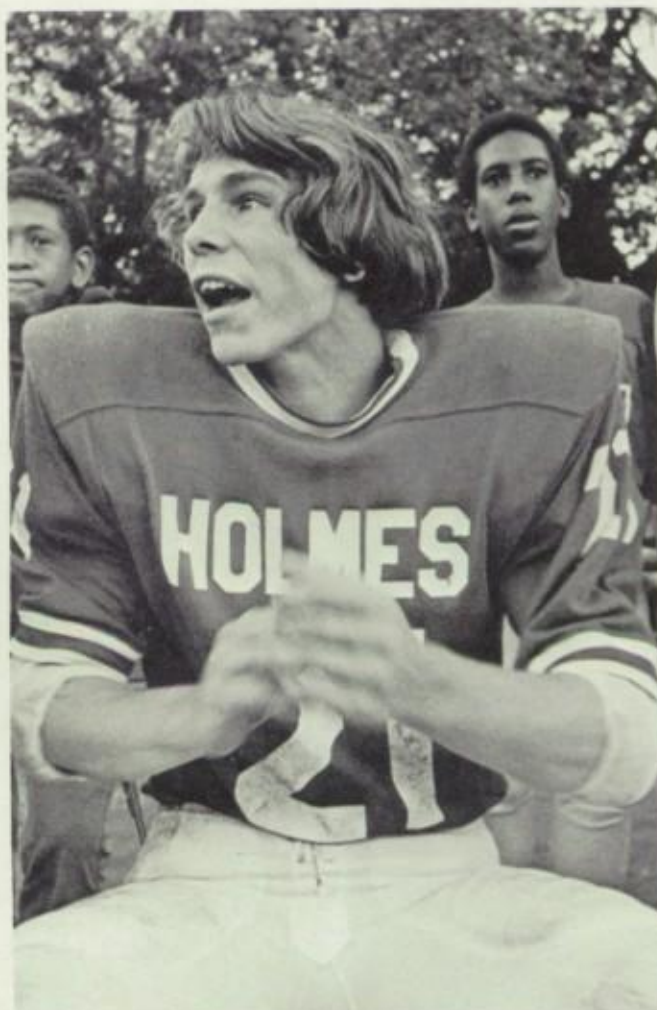

Outstanding player was senior Captain Gregg Eisenman, who led the team in tackles and was voted the best defensive player in Northern Ky. by all the coaches in the area and named to the National All American Team by Staff Magazine. We like to think he set the example for the underclassmen players of next year.

Jr. High basketball teams had tremendous seasons. The Freshmen ended with a 24-1 record. They won the Holy Cross Christmas Tournament, the NKAC championship, and the 9th Region Tournament. The squad was rated number one in Northern Kentucky.

Mr. Haney, coach, felt he had 15 good ball players. "The hardest job of coaching the team was getting 15 players into a 24-minute game."

The Eighth Grade team finished with a 10-3 record. The end of the season brought a few bad breaks. Their best player broke his arm and their sixth man became ineligible. The weather prohibited games and practices. However, the boys had good fundamentals, bringing a rewarding season for Mr. Reynolds and the team.

Girls Finish With Good 13-5 Slate

Girls' Basketball is mostly a sport that is not paid attention to by the students. The girls play just as the varsity boys do; maybe even a bit rougher.

Leadership in girls basketball is a very essential quality. Miss Joan Mitchell, the girl's Coach, explains it this way. "The girls come in and want to play. Not all want to be leaders, but there can be the situation of getting 'too many chiefs and not enough Indians.' I guess the leader of the girls this year was Karen Rimer. She was friendly with them, but they listened to her when she was leading. Janie Burgess and Karen were the Co-Captains the year."

School spirit is not really behind the girls. "If they had a desire to win, I'm sure we would have gone downstate. The desire comes from the student body backing them up. Without this, they won't play as well," Miss Mitchell claims.

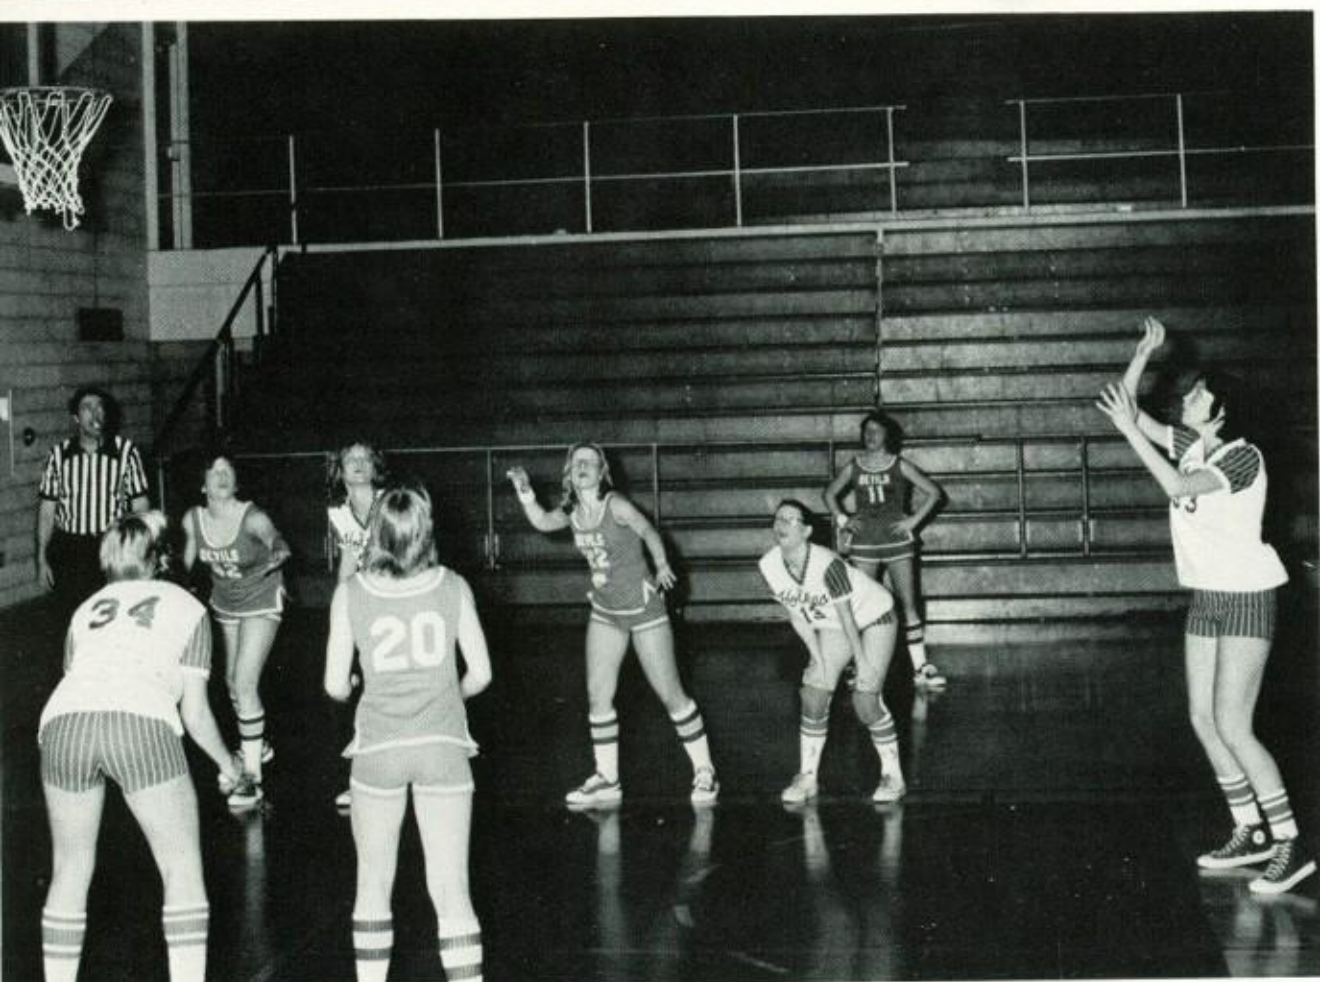

Changes for next year are few. The bench will be strong and even though height will be lost from graduation, the girls have enough experience to be really tough next year. That is, with a little support from the student body.

Basketball: Struggle

and Satisfaction

The defending 9th region and NKAC champions got off to a stumbling start this year, managed to smooth it out during the middle of the season, ran into some internal problems later and finally started putting it all together around tournament time.

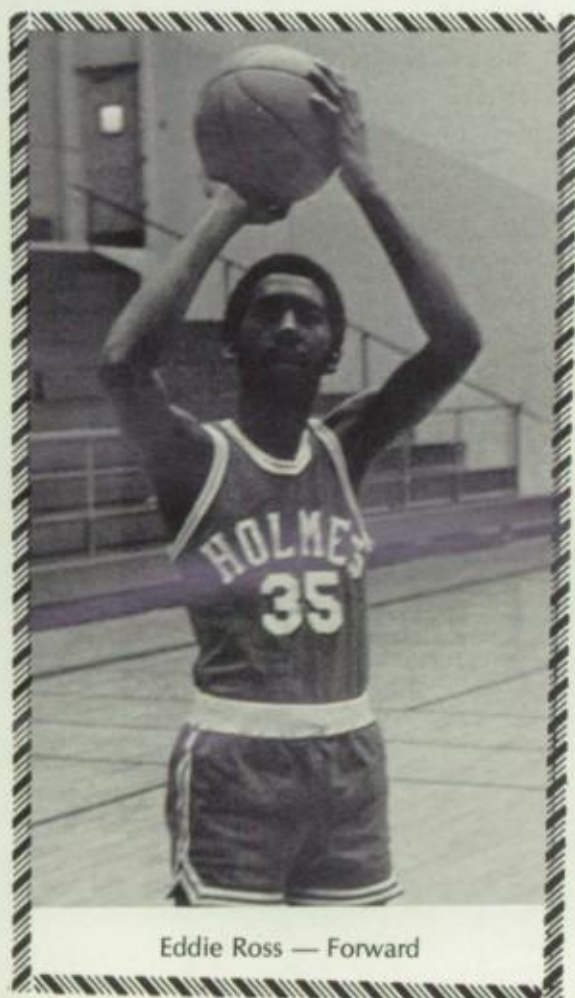

The early disappointments came after a fine come-from-behind victory over neighborhood rival Holy Cross by one point 74-73. An average Mason Co. quintet toppled the Dogs 72-70, but a week later Bryan Station fell to Coach Flynn's five 80-75. After a very disappointing appearance in the prestigious Ashland Invitational over Christmas, where they lost to Louisville Trinity 77-74, the team, rated #1 in the region pre-season polls, took it on the chin from a strong Newport Wildcat five, 74-70.

Finally, against the #1 rated Lloyd, the team started a win streak that stretched to nine before losing to the hot outside shooting of Newport Catholic, 80-70, with several players boycotting the squad, claiming not enough playing time. Again, Newport Public took Holmes, but only by one point, 72-71, and Holmes with a very thin bench. Shortly thereafter, all players returned, problems seemingly worked out.

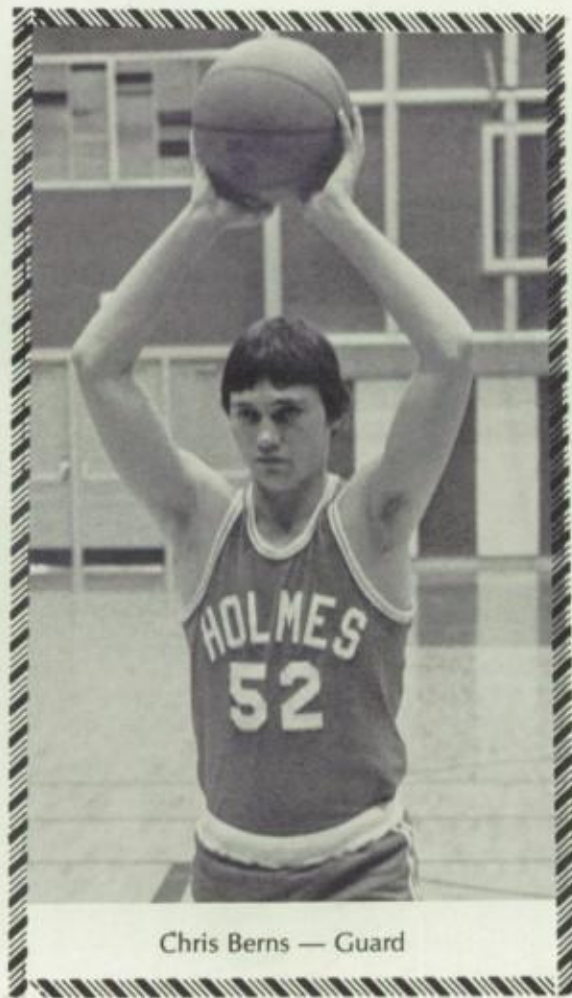

The team then won three of the last four, defeating Louisville Male and losing only to powerful Ashland, finishing with a good 16-6 slate.

In the District Tournament, the big RED line — Roy Meyer, Ed Ross and Doug Schloemer — began to resemble the '76 regional champs. They finally put away a spunky Beechwood club, led by big Kurt Pohlgeers, 73-62.

Crosstown rival Holy Cross gave the Dogs a tough battle, but scoring by Meyer and Schloemer and spark plug defense and steals by guard James Avery gave the big RED a nine point win 80-71.

In the championship battle, which literally became one in the third quarter when a brief melee saw three players ejected, the Dogs came from behind to whip Cov. Cath. 82-76. Ed Ross seemed to be inspired by jeering of the Colonels' fans and responded by pouring 23 points through the nets to lead the way.

For the second straight year, Holmes had captured the district crown, moving into the regional looking very strong, "peaking" at the right time. Schloemer, Meyer, and Ross all made the district All-Tourney squad.

Volleyball Requires Dedication and Sacrifice

A 25 and 2 record and a winning percentage of .933 brought the volleyball team a successful season. One of the reasons that the season was so successful was that the '76 team was a veteran team. All the starters were experienced and they had a strong bench backing them. The only real disappointment this season was not winning the conference championship or the tournament.

Paula Flesch displayed a great deal of leadership by keeping up the momentum of the girls. Molly McDavid was the "spark-plug" setter of the team. She kept points and spirits high. Sue Warken was another exceptionally consistent high scorer. Coach Donna Wolfe, said all the girls made up the best group of kids she had ever coached. The players were mature, dedicated, and loyal.

Coach Wolfe feels that the biggest improvement needed in the sport of volleyball is elementary school training. Volleyball is not taught in our elementary schools, and she feels that if it were, the training would be very helpful to the students when they come to Holmes. Volleyball is a hard sport to learn. It takes much dedication and sacrifice. But once it is mastered, it is very rewarding, because it builds leadership and self-confidence.

Time Is Big Factor

Mr. Roy Gilfedder, the coach of the wrestling team, feels very strongly about leadership. "Leadership plays a very big part with the wrestlers," he claims. "The boys must do their own practicing to make themselves good. It is a sport that demands relying on yourself." The leading scorer this year was Mark Farley. He had a total of 57 points out of a possible 84 and nine pins to match. Mike Smith and he represented Northern Kentucky in the state competition. Even though our team wasn't one of the leaders in the area, it is expected to be much better next year. "Wrestling is unlike any other sport," Mr. Gilfedder explains. "The wrestlers have no previous experience until they actually wrestle. In other words, they have no knowledge of the sport. Time is a big factor when it comes to developing a good wrestler. We have fourteen boys coming back next year, all with wrestling experience."

Changes for next year will be working much harder, and an extra amount of training by Mr. Gilfedder.

Intramural Basketball Leagues Work Together

Intramural Basketball is played in both the sr. and jr. highs. At 7:45' student teams play each other.

Mr. Dennis Soard, the sponsor of the sr. high teams, says leadership is a large part of the Intramural teams. Captains from the sr. high ran all of the teams in both buildings.

The sr. high had 10 teams, one of which became champs, captained by Mike "Mouse" Johnson.

Mr. Robert Lynch, the sponsor of the jr. building teams, had some problems with his schedule. The weather threw an obstacle in his way. However, one good thing is that the sr. high and jr. high people work together very well.

A special "thank you" is extended to Mr. Runge, Mr. Gilliam, Jim Roberts, and all the captains and coaches for their help.

Extracurricular activities provide students with the opportunity to display their leading talents in various ways. Each participant is a leader, although all are not bosses. Showing responsibility by attending meetings and participation displays good leadership qualities. Through these activities, students learn where responsibility and leadership lie.

Top: The percussion section dazzles the eyes and ears of fans as they present their show. Bottom: The 1976 Champion Marching Band.

Top Center: The band entertains the crowd during half time. Above: Steve Winkler steps in rhythm as he directs.

When a person thinks of a band, he usually thinks drums, horns, and people. Our school band is much more. Consisting of 110 members in marching, 63 in concert, 85 in junior, and 50 in "pep" band, organizing can be a big job. The students spend most of their free time at practice all summer, band camp, and three hours a night after school practicing.

Leadership plays a large part in band. Squad leaders work with individuals to help better themselves so the band will keep the title of the leading band of the area. Responsibility has to be maintained in coming to practice and keeping the instruments in fine shape.

Routines are developed by the directors and hired professionals who work to help the band win contests. Contests won this year were first place in Division at Campbell County and the Roger Bacon Invitational. Individuals will have contests for the Kentucky All State Band, Northern Kentucky Select Band and there will also be a solo and ensemble contest.

Mr. Dennis Cain, Band Director, has plans for enlarging the color guard and the percussion sections for a bigger and better band next year.

Much Time Devoted to Cheerleading

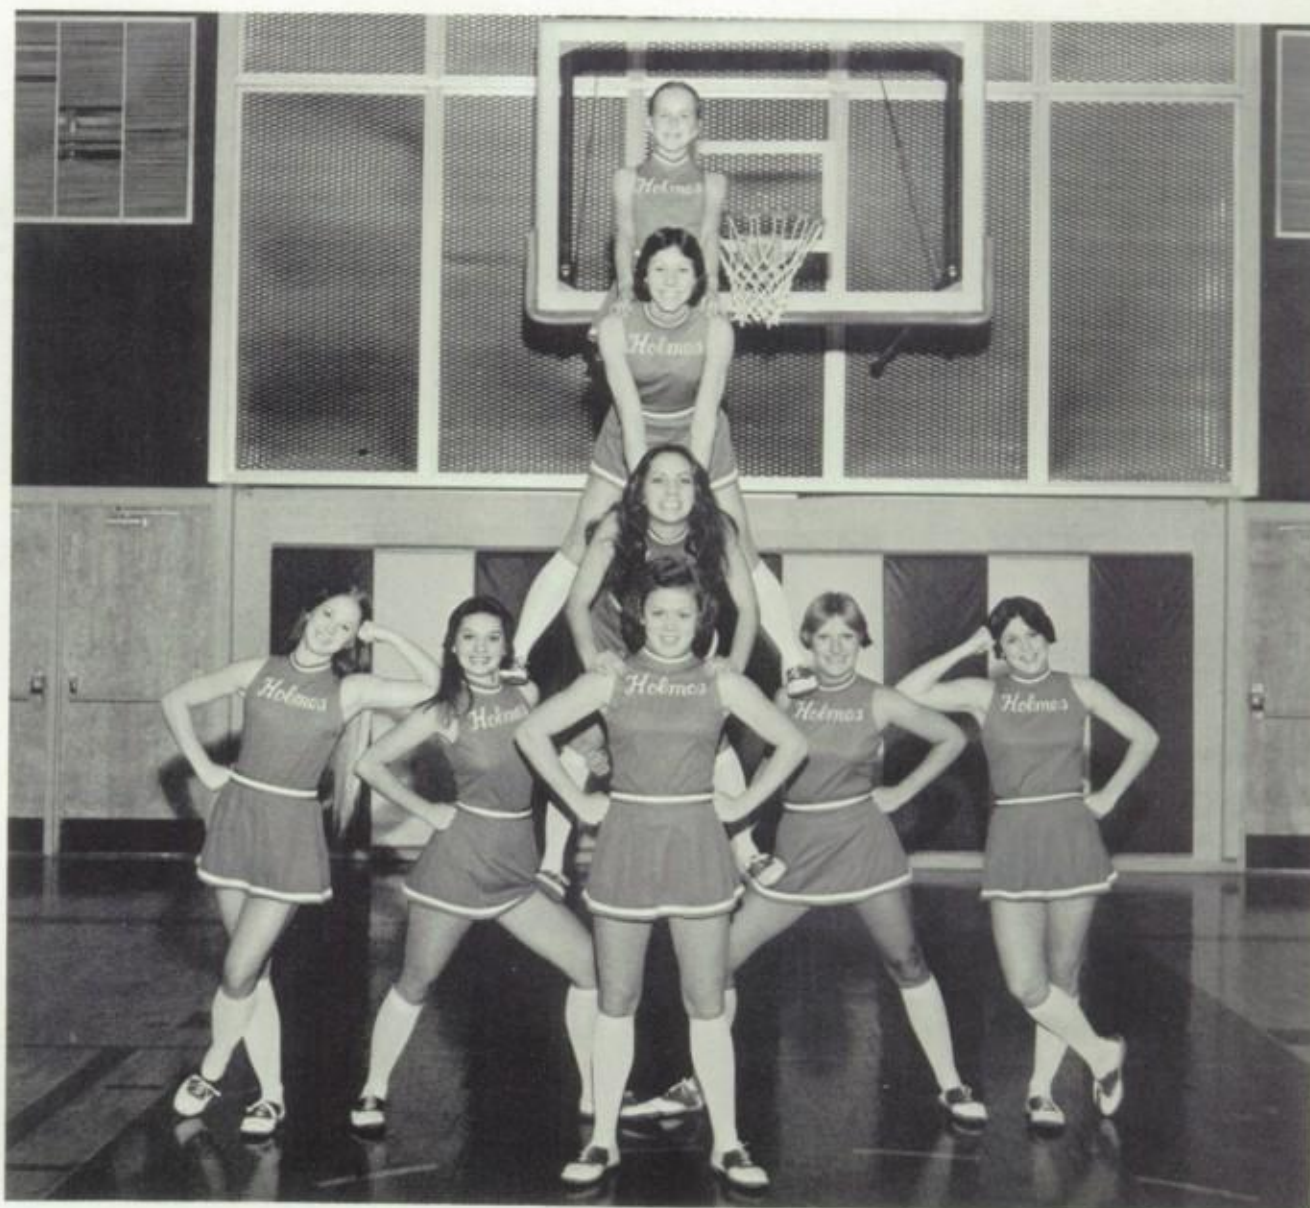

Cheerleading is a special activity. The cheerleaders seem to have an extra energy most students lack. They never tire of doing extra, little things for the football and basketball team. They put 100% behind both teams and the school.

One cheerleader said, "The teams are the greatest. They really seem to appreciate everything we do for them, no matter how small."

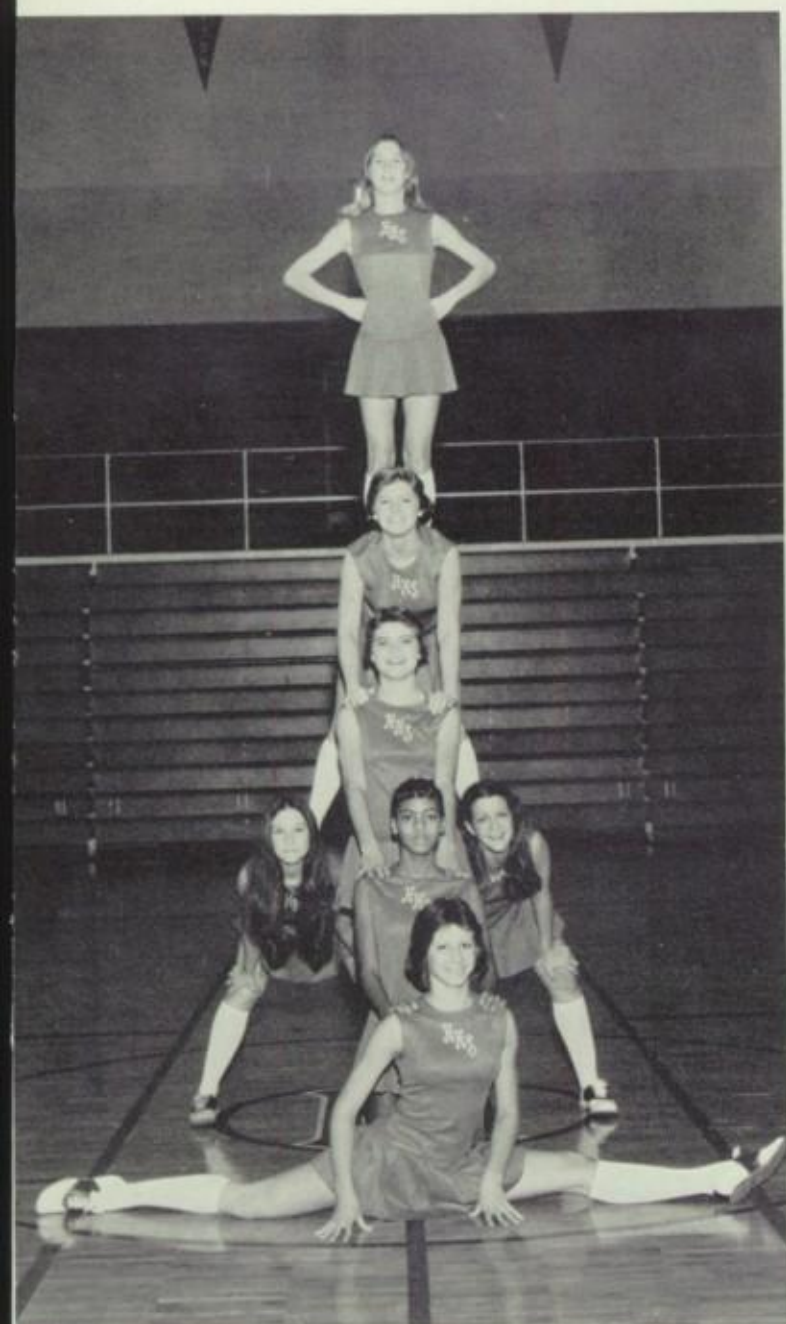

A lot of time is devoted to the activity of cheerleading. All summer and after-school during school, the cheerleaders practice and organize projects for special events like Homecoming, pep rallies, and tournaments.

During the summer, all eight cheerleaders attended a cheerleading clinic at the University of Kentucky to learn new cheers and chants to help raise spirit and give the teams confidence.

The girls are grateful for the support the teams, student body, and faculty show at fund-raising activities.

96 Team Played One of Their Better Games

Signs, bunting, humorous posters and bulldog cartoons appeared on the hall walls overnight on Monday, October 25th. With class members pitching in to help for four nights, the second floor, decorated by the juniors, took the Homecoming decoration prize.

At the pep rally on the afternoon of the 29th, former football player Tim Soward spoke on the importance of the game against Highlands. To top off the pep rally, a car bash, featuring a Bluebird-covered junker, allowed students and teachers the opportunity to work out their aggression with a sledge hammer for a quarter a swing.

That night, after a small parade, the team, trying very hard and playing one of their better games of the season, took a tough loss from Highlands, 14-7.

Excitement and Wonder Grew

As preparations were being made, seven girls had something extra on their minds. These girls were the Homecoming candidates. Excitement and wonder grew as the night advanced. The moment eventually arrived when the girls stepped onto the field during halftime. Finally, the 1975 Homecoming Queen was chosen; Her name — Paula Flesch. The first runner-up and second runner-up were Lisa Vanlandingham and Louise Riesenber.

Looking back, Paula said, "I was so shocked and happy that I nearly fell over. I just couldn't believe it."

"Being on a newspaper staff is a big responsibility," commented co-editor Rob Sanders. And he feels that the staff is taking on more of this responsibility each year. They have an improved attitude and are better at meeting deadlines. These improvements instill leadership in the staff, something without which a business like the paper cannot run smoothly.

The editors must be good leaders, totally responsible for the news and any complaints about it. In addition, they must keep the staff working hard while keeping them compatible.

"This staff is innovative and happy with their product," concluded Rob.

Horizons is a literary magazine
Written and printed here on the scene.
With poems, stories, and original art,
Created by students who like to take part.
It's really easy to contribute,
and a whole lot of fun
To flip through the pages
and see what you've done.
Creative students turn in their best to Mr. Spurlock or his staff.
There's a big variety to choose from some make you cry, some make you laugh.
There's a short story contest and money to win!
So why not write down your thoughts and give it a spin.
It's a leading magazine
judged on a national level
It's won 1st place and a certified gold medal.

Award Winning Yearbook Takes Time and Money

The yearbook staff meets at least one hour each day in order to produce this volume of memories. They are definitely one of the most active groups in the school, constantly compiling information, arranging photo schedules and attempting to present it all in an attractive way.

The past few years have seen yearbooks change somewhat from pure photo groupings of classes and activities to more of a "magazine" format with more detailed copy, attention-getting headlines and more realistic, usually casual, photos, many in color, including the complete senior portrait section.

All this involves more time and more money, which explains the slight increase in price over the years. But most would agree that the improvements are worth it. Lest We Forget was one of the top twelve books in its division last year in Columbia University's judging competition of over 1,200 yearbooks.

The staff of '77 sincerely hopes you enjoy this year's effort.

Advertising Staff Develops Self-Reliance

Advertising is good business. It helps to bring in money for both the advertiser and the advertising staff. What is the ad staff? It is a group of students who try to develop themselves as leaders by going out and getting advertisements to be put in the back section of the yearbook.

Six students make up the staff. These people go out to businesses on their free time to ask them if they would like to have an ad put in the yearbook. During homeroom and 6th period, they meet to put it all together. This means doing their own layouts, typing, and practicing their sales pitches.

Miss Ruth Edwards, the ad staff sponsor, thinks that going out and associating with business people develops self-reliance. "Turn downs" can come often, so the students must keep going. This kind of ambition is only found in special people and a vote of thanks is given to the advertising staff from the yearbook staff for their excellent job.

It's Academic Defeats Dayton; Loses to Latin

The It's Academic Team: FIRST ROW: Alison McElfresh (alternate), Greg Anstead, and Sait Tarhan (alternate). SECOND ROW: Sandy Briede (alternate), Rob Sanders, and Terry McKinley.

Miss Ruth Edwards, the coach of the It's Academic team, feels that the players develop strong leadership qualities by expanding their knowledge on their own time. They applied themselves more this year, working an hour before and after school.

"The kids didn't do it all for their own personal achievement," Miss Edwards stated. "I think it was partly that and partly for the school. They wanted the students to be proud of them for representing Holmes so well."

The team consisted of three students who would pick a topic and ask questions to the others. Game shows were very helpful as they would write down the questions and find the answers, using these as samples.

This year they beat Dayton and came in second out of three teams in our second match. All are very proud of the intellectual learners.

"Executives" Willing to Work to Make Decisions

Student Council, the student government, is led by four officers elected by students to represent them.

Mr. Huhn, Council's sponsor, works hard with the 60 students currently involved, 19 of these making up the executive committee which consists of students in the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades. The "Executives" are willing to work and make decisions previously made by homeroom representatives, the ones who make up the rest of Council.

Most of the people in Council show leadership, even though it is up to the student to develop this quality. Students are elected by homerooms to take their ideas to the officers until a definite answer is given; then they report the results to the homeroom. Leadership and responsibility must be shown by these representatives.

Plans this year include holiday projects for needy families, the faculty basketball game, events at athletic games, ticket sales for sporting events, and the possibility of adding 8th and 9th graders to the executive committee.

Officers Lead Students in Activities

Jr. Student Council had many activities planned for this year. At the date of publication, Council had planned the Victory Queen Contest, the Faculty game, and a drive to help needy families at Christmas. Another activity that Jr. Student Council counted on having was a student dance.

Mr. Haney, sponsor, said that if the students gave enough support to council, these activities would be carried through. He also said that student response had been good so far. Student Council officers must display leadership in order to achieve student support. All officers try to lead the students in every activity. Mr. Haney stated that the past officers have tried to do their best but could have done better if they had received more student participation.

Holmes Update Provides Experience in Broadcasting

Students may see a friend of theirs on television at school. A group of students produce periodic broadcasts over our incircuit television channel, 2. Mrs. Dorothy Thompson, the sponsor of the T.V. group, said that those involved are learning to handle equipment and how to be confident in front of people. "The kids work on news broadcasts and plays to perform in front of the camera," she stated. "All of the broadcasts are made directly from this room in the senior library."

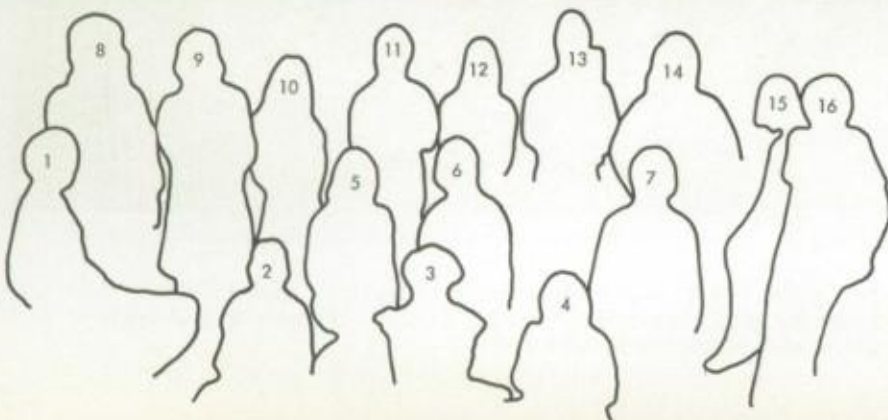

The special television group is made up of students of all ages, all of whom joined this "club" on their own. "The group is for people who want to get into television, or just want some experience," Mrs. Thompson replied.

Leadership is shown by the actions of students in this organization. The people involved must be dedicated to get ahead and must learn not to waste time in front of the camera.

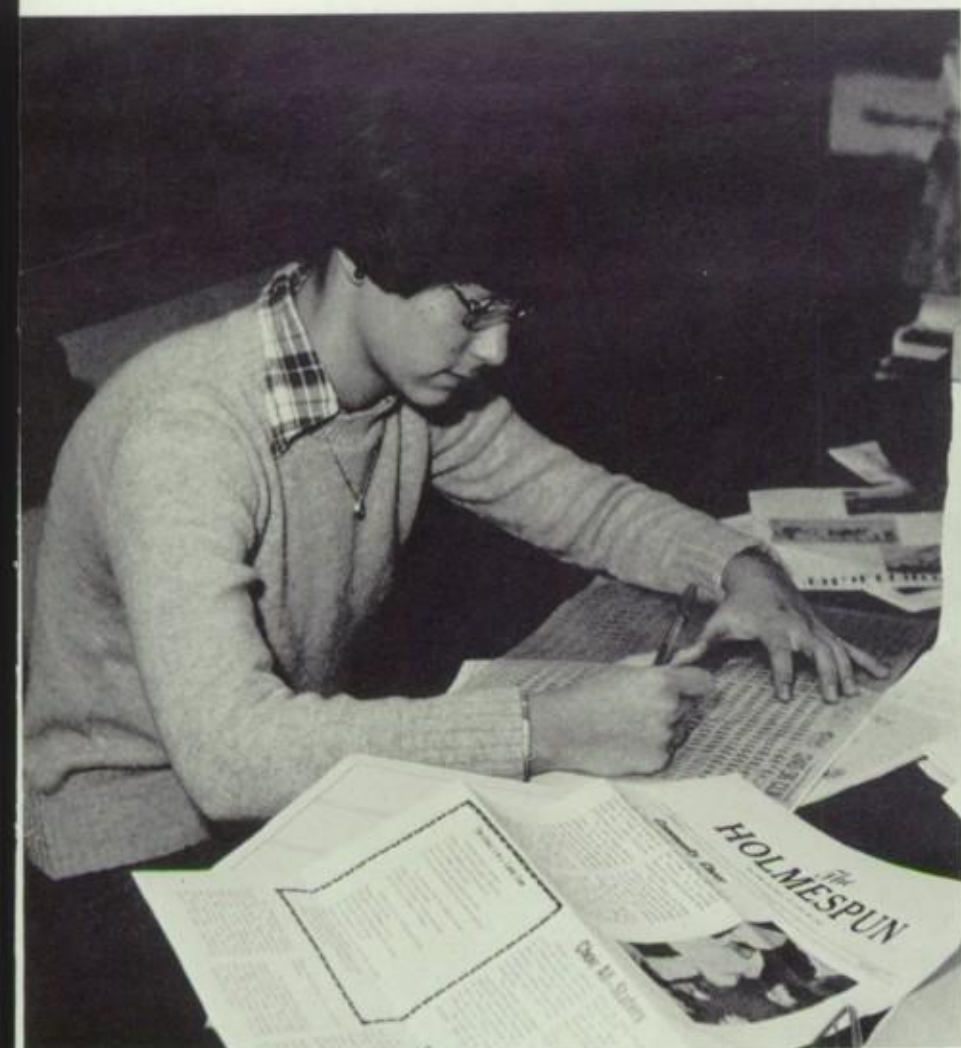

Mrs. Thompson prepares to compile a schedule for the Campus View's next broadcast.

Jr. High Newspaper Staff Forms

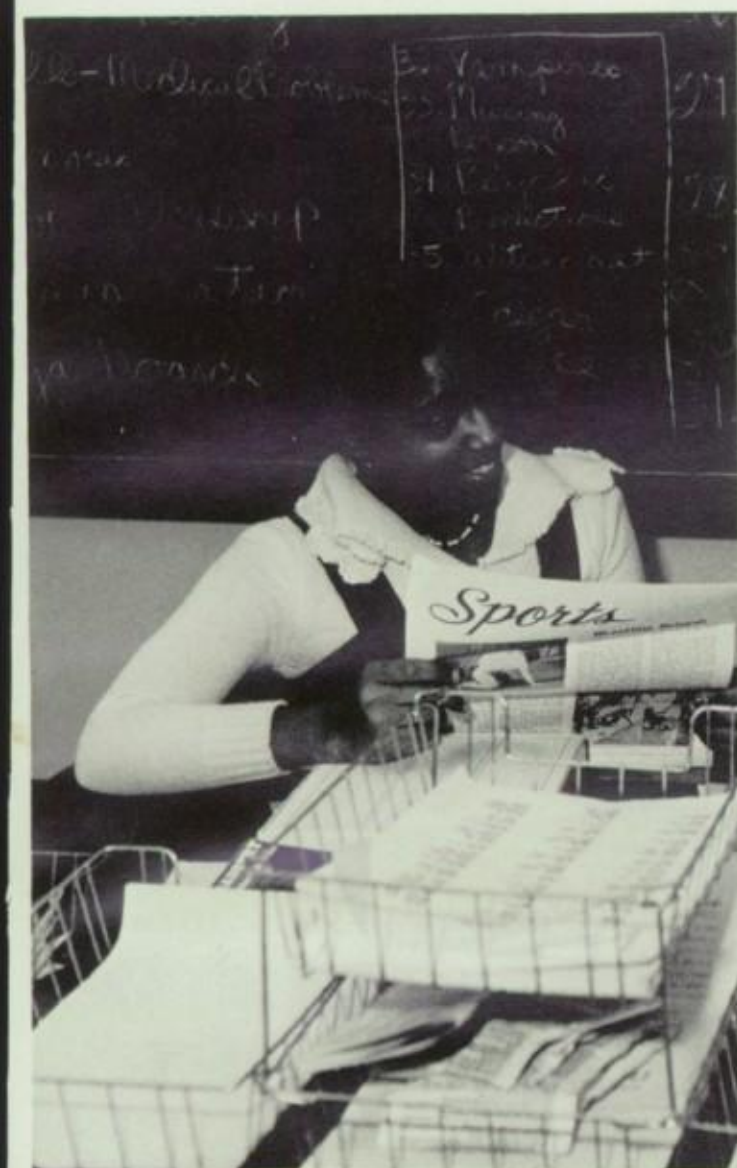

Susan Buring practices making headlines for the newspaper.

An addition to the publications area sprang up in the junior high in December. The jr. high newspaper was formed at the suggestion of Rob Sanders, Holmespun editor. The aim of this idea was to educate young students about the newspaper business so there will be some experienced journalists to take over the Holmespun.

Jr. high students learn how to write articles, present material in an organized manner, and what type of stories to look for. Probably one of the most valuable lessons is that the newspaper business is not all fun and games. It requires much time and hard work.

The editor must possess qualities of leadership, responsibility, dedication and many others. The editor is Susan Buring. It is her job to learn to give assignments and orders. Part of this duty, sometimes most difficult, is to know what to assign and to whom.

This first year is merely an organizing year. Due to the split schedule of winter, the newspaper got off to a slow start. The material in the newspaper includes club items, general news, features, and sports.

Vocational School Offers Students Salable Skills

Vocational School is a program devised to teach basic techniques. It serves nine high schools in Kenton County with a total population of 480. Holmes students comprise approximately 25% of this number. The students attend vocational school the first half of the day, and continue the other half at Holmes.

The ten programs offered are auto mechanics, auto body, welding, sheet metal, masonry, carpentry, commercial art, heating and air conditioning, industrial electricity, and health careers. Mr. Tuppman, principal, feels that these programs provide a graduate with a salable skill to offer employers. The only disadvantage of enrolling in this program is that the amount of involvement in high school activities is low.

Vocational school develops leadership in the students by giving them optional courses of study other than book knowledge. By becoming proficient in the occupation of his choice, the student gains confidence and strength, which can produce a leader.

Co-op Prepares Students for World of Work

The Cooperative Work Experience, or co-op, works with three main organizations: the school, home, and employment station. Co-op provides academic courses and job-oriented instruction. The learning is controlled by a coordinated, professionally-trained person, Mr. Frank Seta.

The student who joins co-op comes to school for 3 classes and then leaves to go to his job. The program is excellent for developing leadership, as the student must make his own decisions for occupational preparation and entry, forming and keeping academic standards for both in-school and on-the-job phases of the program and promoting work relations with co-workers. A co-op student often works to 15 to 20 paid hours a week and has the same fringe benefits as the adult workers.

Co-op workers are evaluated on attendance, punctuality, reliability, following instructions, quality, quantity, interest in work, courtesy, cleanliness, and neatness. The same grades are used in co-op as in school.

Employers in the program include Twin Fair, Holmes' Bookstore, 1st National and Fifth Third Banks, Covington Board of Education, and the Kirchoff and Lewis Law Office in Newport.

National Honor Society Has Success With Drives

The National Honor Society has been quite busy taking care of business. The Society, which consists of 46 senior members and approximately 30 new members, was very successful in its drives. It sponsored the Homecoming mums drive, the sale of flowers for St. Patrick's Day, the tutoring program, the Brain Teasers project, Frisch's Day, and the Toys for Tots campaign. NHS even received a Certificate of Merit from the Marine Corps for its work in Toys for Tots. However, Frisch's Day is the primary project of the year. On April 2, NHS members took over the restaurant — except for the kitchen — and got a percentage of the profits taken in that day. This money goes towards scholarships presented by the Society.

NHS members are selected from juniors with an average above 88% and seniors with an average above 90%. These students are then screened by the deans and teachers. The students are then judged on community service and leadership in other clubs and organizations. Leadership plays an important part in NHS. Once a student becomes a member of NHS, he is given responsibility which produces even more leadership in an individual.

Being a member of the NHS aids when applying to colleges and applying for scholarships. The Society itself gives out 3 scholarships per year, valid at the school of the recipient's choice.

Spirit of Christmas Fills the Cracks and Crevices

It seems to many people that the Christmas season grows worse each year. With the zooming prices, the pushing and shoving, and the last-minute shopping for the best bargains, many feel they have lost the real spirit of Christmas. Sound familiar?

However, the spirit of Christmas filled the cracks and crevices. Students, teachers, and other workers decorated the school with beautiful, inspiring ornaments. The choir presented their annual concert to help people breathe the yuletide air. And Student Council ran a "Mr. and Mrs. Scrooge" contest in which students could vote for their favorite Scrooge at 5¢ a vote or 25¢ for 6 votes. The contestants were Miss Wolfe, Mrs. Lancaster, Miss Brewer, Mrs. Michaelson, and Mrs. Hanneken for Mrs. Scrooge and Mr. Tucker, Mr. Schomaker, Mr. Dupin, Mr. Reh fuss, and Mr. Schultz for Mr. Scrooge. The winners were Miss Brewer with 708 votes and Mr. Schomaker with 452 votes.

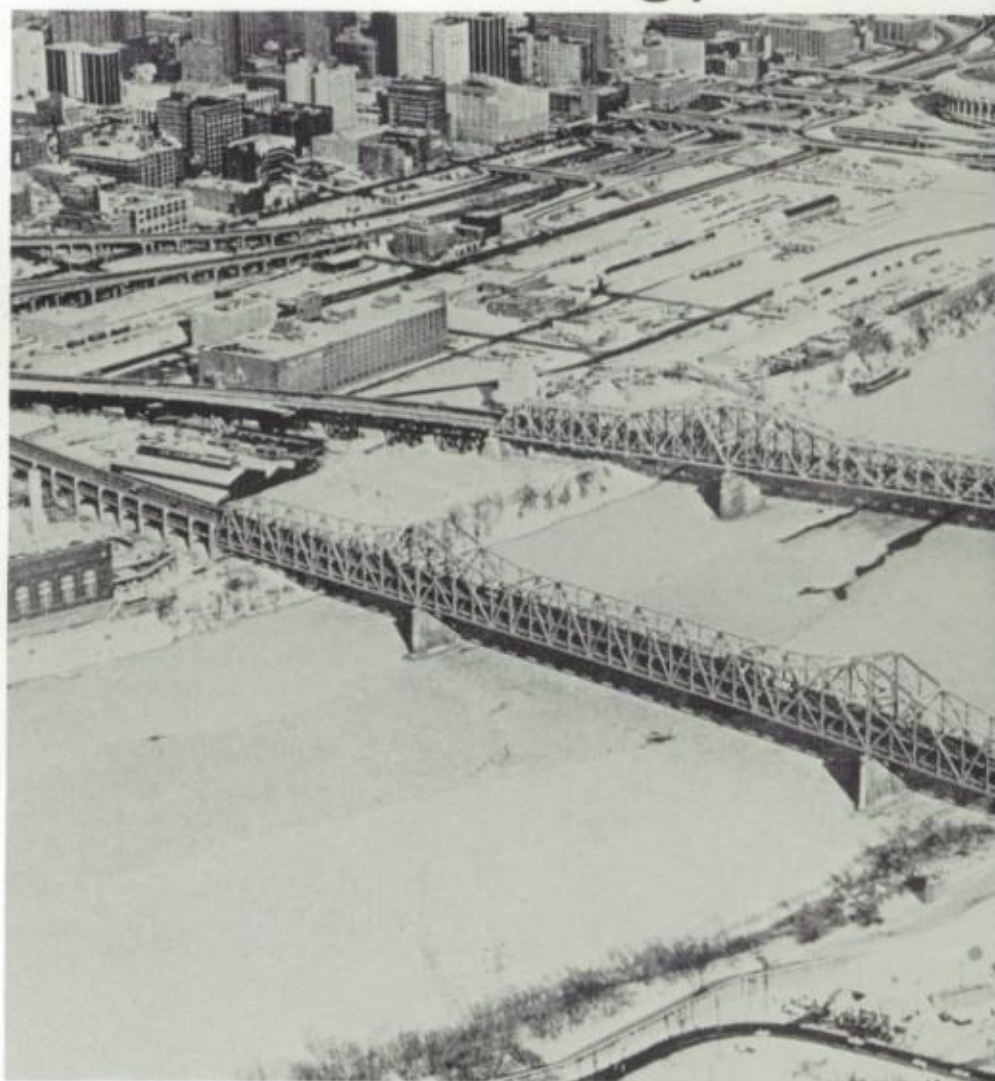

Everybody seemed pleased to leave for vacation on December 22, and they were not too anxious to return on January 3. However, it was a well-deserved rest, and shortly thereafter we began another, but this time a not-so-wanted vacation due to the miserable, bitter cold winter of '77.

Takes Toll on Holmes

B-r-r-r-r-r. That was the extent of the early months of '77 because of the snow and the frigid temperatures outside and inside the school building.

On January 5, six inches of snow fell with final accumulation of 8 inches in a 24 hour period. Salt crews worked day and night to clear the streets; however, many schools were shut down, including our own. Before the snow fall was hardly melted, the tri-state received four new inches of snow on January 10. Ice began to form on the Ohio River. Four days later, five more inches blanketed the area, and everybody was sent home at 1:00.

All this snow created problems for store personnel who said so many people were rushing to buy shovels and snow tires that supplies were getting low. In our school the weather created problems for many students and teachers. Classes, sports, and other activities were cancelled. However, the worst was yet to come.

The temperature dropped to -24° on January 17 and -25° , the record breaker, the following day. Due to these consistent low temperatures, the Ohio River froze solid, preventing barges carrying fuel and natural gas from reaching our area. People were asked to cut back on their fuel consumption. However, as the energy crisis grew, Holmes was ordered by the Gas and Electric Company to close. This order came on Thursday, January 27, and the school was closed until Monday, February 14 when it opened on a split schedule. The Sr. High students went from 7:00 to 12:00 and the Jr. High from 12:45 to 4:45.

Everyone will always remember this winter, because it has touched each student and teacher. It is for certain the students will never forget the large snow fall, the unusually cold temperatures, and the irregular school hours.

Juniors Show "Class" In the Junior Revue

On Wednesday, March 23rd, after weather delays, the Junior Class finally got to show its talent. The Junior Review was produced, even though the show got held up by the weather and "Sweet 16" basketball tournament.

Skits were performed with much enthusiasm; many people wound up getting whipped-cream pies in their faces. An impersonation of Jimmy Carter was done by John Demoisey, who suggested that peanuts be used instead of money.

Music was the main part of the show. Tammy Race sang the Senior Class song, "Mahogany," and Alison McElfresh sang the Junior Class song "The Way We Were." Dance routines and baton twirling were done to rock arrangements.

The emcees did a great job of telling jokes and presenting the audience with information about each act. At the end, the stage band had a "band jam" with all of the participants dancing to "Shake Your Booty."

All in all, the show was a great success and now it's official: the Junior Class has "Class."

Top Left: Jeanine Terry does the splits in her dance routine to "Fly Like An Eagle." Top Right: Denice Harmeling, Kevin Scroggins, Judy Yelton, Bruce Slavey, and Gail Wiles perform the "If I Were In High School" skit. Bottom Right: Alison McElfresh sings, with great emotion, the Junior Class song, "The Way We Were."

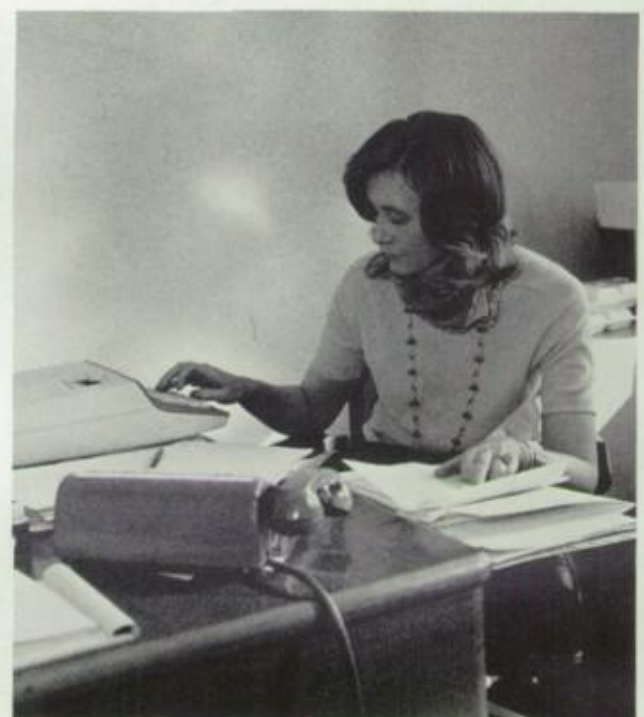

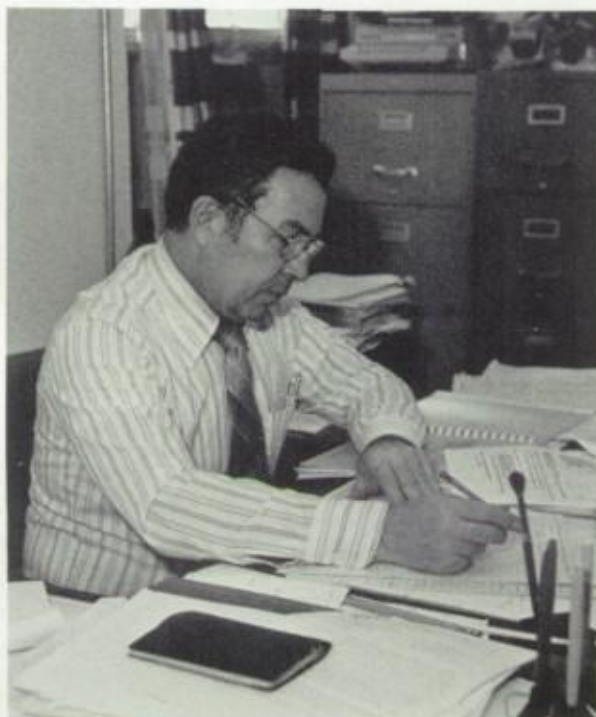

The Faculty and Administration set an example of leadership for the students. Their duty is to enforce the rules for the benefit of all students. An old Latin saying, "in loco parentis" means "in place of the parents." The teachers and administrators have this job while at school to train students to become responsible, respectable, leading individuals.

FACULTY & ADMINISTRATION

School Board Makes Plans for Future

The Covington school board has many plans in store for Holmes' future. A distributive ed. program is being added to the sophomore and junior business courses next year. This program deals with retail selling. The 8th grade practical arts program is going to be extended to the 9th grade next year, too. A totally new project, a vocational home economics program, is being added, starting at the 9th grade level. Finally, a proposal to build a vocational school on our campus on the west side of the Science Building has already been approved by the State Board of Education. These are very positive projects that the board has been working very hard for.

Fred W. Moeves

Gene Dupin

Orland Hoskins

"Happy to Be Part of Holmes's Staff"

Mr. Dupin, senior building principal, has many responsibilities. The former mechanical drawing teacher and boys' dean now manages the senior department. Attendance and discipline are his main concerns. Mr. Dupin uses his position to impress and propose leadership to the 1,202 occupants of the senior high.

"I convey the purpose of education and desires each member of the faculty has for the students to be successes in the future," replied Mr. Dupin. "Our wish for each student is to turn out to be a productive, leading citizen."

The six-year veteran sees two attitudes toward school: "A small percentage come only because they are required by law, but the greater majority want to be here."

"I am happy to be a part of Holmes's staff. I feel we have the best student body of any school in the area," boasted Mr. Dupin.

FRED W. MOEVES. Mr. Moeves is the head principal. He has a B.S. from U.C., an M.Ed. and Rank I from Xavier University. His past professional accomplishments include N.K.A.C. Basketball Coach of the Year, and he is presently President of Northern Ky. Assoc. of Secondary School Principals. His outside interests are sports of all kinds, especially golf.

GENE DUPIN. He is the Principal of the Sr. Department with a B.S. from Western Kentucky University and an M.Ed. from Xavier University. Two of his hobbies are camping and woodworking.

ORLAND HOSKINS. Mr. Hoskins is the Principal of the Jr. Department with a B.A. from Georgetown College and an M.Ed. from Xavier University. In his spare time, he fishes, refinishes furniture, home decorates, and is interested in horticulture. His main interests are his wife and two sons.

Two New Secretaries Join the Staff

Mrs. Young fills out homeroom lists for office use.

Mrs. Hester uses the copying machine to duplicate eligibility lists.

132

The main role of the secretaries is to organize all school matters so that the principals have more time for direct contact with the students. This enables the principals to get better acquainted with individual students as well as the student body as a whole. It also gives them more freedom with the teaching staff and the other administrators.

Both the Jr. Building and the Sr. Building secretaries are new this year. They believe that everyone has been very helpful to them and that their student aides have been "invaluable."

Mrs. Young, secretary in the Jr. Building, feels that her main role in the office is as a go-between from the teachers, parents, and students to the principal.

Mrs. Canaday, secretary of the Sr. Building is striving to "take as much work off Mr. Dupin as I can, so he can spend more time with students, teachers and everything else that demands so much of his time."

Aside from their occupational duties, the secretaries enjoy certain outside interests. Mrs. Hester likes raising flowers and vegetables, reading, doing craft work, and loves raising her three dogs. Mrs. Canaday enjoys all sports, especially bowling. Mrs. Young raises plants, does crewel embroidering, knits, enjoys reading, and loves dogs.

Mrs. Canaday talks with a teacher and answers his questions.

Deans Stress Importance of Good Attendance and Discipline

Getting involved in school activities helps build leadership and self-discipline in students. Mr. Logsdon, dean of boys in the senior building, stresses involvement to the students. When students are active in sports or clubs, they appreciate school much more.

The former physical education teacher has responsibility that revolves around impressing upon students the importance of maintaining flawless attendance and discipline records. Both are valuable references and show leadership qualities.

In the three years Mr. Logsdon has been the dean, the most common problem he has seen is students not wanting to go to class.

Mr. Logsdon only talks to a small percentage of students who are not content with school. The majority of active students enjoy school very much.

ROBERT LOGSDON. He is the Sr. High Dean of Boys with a B.S. from Eastern Kentucky University and an M.A. from Union College. In his spare time, he enjoys hunting and fishing.

WANDA BREWER. Miss Brewer is the Sr. High Dean of Girls with an A.B. from Georgetown College and an M.Ed. from the University of Cincinnati. Her personal interests include reading, golf, and yard work.

PAUL VELDHAUS. He is the Jr. High Dean of Boys with an A.B. from Eastern Kentucky University and an M.Ed. from Xavier University. He enjoys most sports and also does some yard work.

MARY FRANCES WALDEN. Mrs. Walden is the Jr. High Dean of Girls with a B.S. from the University of Kentucky and an M.Ed. from Xavier University. Her professional accomplishments include membership in the Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary woman teacher's organization. For outside interests, she likes to travel, sew, and read.

Counselors Busy With Wide Range of Duties

Counselors have become an active and valuable part of our school. They help familiarize new students with the campus, procedures, and regulations. They lead many students into their futures by providing information on all types of career developments and by guiding the students in their choices of careers. Also, they supply information on various colleges and military jobs and programs. Pamphlets on drugs, alcohol, and cigarettes are available in their office along with a willingness to solve students' problems.

The counselors are very involved with the Vocational School and the Alternative School. The Vocational School has 132 students enrolled and many more waiting for openings. It offers classes that teach trades and skills such as drafting, carpentry, commercial art and auto mechanics. Since so many students want to participate in the vocational program, the counselors feel that our school should have a vocational school of its own. This would allow more students from this school to enroll for vocational training.

The Alternative School is designed for students who are 2 years behind their normal grade. It provides basic subjects so that in a short period of time the student can enter his normal grade. This program is new and unique, but the counselors feel it will be a great success.

As you can see, the counselors are very busy helping the student lead a more fulfilling school life. It's like Mr. Keller said, "Learning is hard work, but it can also be fun."

Penny Smith

MARGARET STEPHENS. She works with seniors in deciding their career choices and directs the entire guidance program. Miss Stephens has an A.B. from U.K., an A.M. from the University of Michigan, and is a post-graduate from U.C. She was former president of the Northern Ky. Personnel and Guidance Assoc. and a member of the Phi Beta Kappa. In her free time, she raises roses, reads much on politics, and does plenty of traveling.

PENNY SMITH. Mrs. Smith is the 8th and 9th grade counselor for students P through Z. She has a B.S. and M.A. from U.K. In 1970, she won the Oswald Creativity Award for Undergraduate Biological Research and in 1975, she was voted Outstanding Jr. High Guidance Counselor of Ky. Her hobbies are swimming and raising, training, and showing Tennessee walking horses.

DICK POE. He helps 8th and 9th graders from G to O and manages the Occupational Information Center. Mr. Poe has a B.S. from Cumberland College and an M.Ed. from Xavier University. He enjoys watching and participating in all sports, particularly golf.

CAROLYN JACOBS. Mrs. Jacobs is the 8th and 9th grade counselor for students A through F. She has a B.S. from E.K.U. and an M.Ed. from Xavier University. She also has a Library Science Certification. Working with the Kenton County S.P.C.A., reading, and being with children are some of her interests.

DONNA ROUSE. She counsels sophomores and administers the GATB test. Ms. Rouse has an A.B. Ed. from U.K. and an M.Ed. from Xavier University. As outside activities, she plays tennis and piano, takes yoga, does macrame and crochets, and listens to all kinds of music.

JACK KELLER. Mr. Keller is the junior counselor and selects students for Vocational School. He has a B.S. from E.K.U. and an M.Ed. from Xavier University. He participates in many sports, particularly handball and swimming, and referees track and basketball.

Librarians Work to Make Library As Pleasant As Possible

Our library not only houses books about leading figures throughout the ages, but it is also the leading high school library in the area.

The library earned its reputation of leadership by continually providing students with more books, magazines, newspapers, and pamphlets than any other.

Mr. Goodeman explained that the library receives approximately 60 various magazines. In addition, the newspapers used for reports by students are also housed in the newest building on campus.

One hope of the concerned librarian is to have the students use the facilities more. Two days, Tuesday and Friday, are devoted to classes in order to make this easier for students.

Fiction books seem to be the most popular with students. Mr. Goodeman feels this is because they are commonly used for book reports. Sports books also rank highly on the popularity scale. An average of 27 books are checked out a day.

Mrs. Reynolds and Mr. Goodeman are working together to make the library as pleasant for the students as possible. "I would like to see more students use what we have to offer," expressed Mr. Goodeman.

LEE GOODEMAN. As librarian of the Senior library, he feels that his main purpose is to work more with the students when they are brought in with their classes. Helping senior high students find information for term papers is one of his jobs. He thinks by the time these students are in senior high, there should be no need to teach basics.

Mr. Goodeman has an M.Ed. from the University of Cincinnati and an M.S.L.S. from the University of Kentucky. He enjoys photography, electronics, and reading. His professional accomplishments include membership in the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity.

CHARLOTT REYNOLDS. Her position of senior librarian not only requires her to aid students in gathering information, but also to help teachers with their class visits to the library. It is her opinion that she should help a senior high student find his source of information, but from that time on he should know how to formulate it and write it.

Mrs. Reynolds has a B.S. from Ohio University and an M.S.L.S. from the University of Kentucky. She sponsors the Projector Club and Library Club. Her outside interests include tennis, dancing, swimming, reading, piano playing, and craft making.

LINDA WECKBACH. Being librarian in the Junior High means teaching the basic library skills to the younger students. She feels that she provides not only textbook information, but also leisure reading materials for teachers and students.

Miss Weckbach has an A.B. and M.A. from the University of Kentucky. She enjoys playing softball, tennis, and bowling. Also, she raises plants and likes to read.

Cafeteria: A Busy Place

Mrs. Davis, our school dietitian, has been working at Holmes for 17 years. She has a staff of 21 people. This includes full and part-time workers, plus eight students.

Serving 1,500 lunches a day, the cafeteria is a very busy place. At least 68 cases of milk are delivered per day. Each case contains 44 cartons of milk, which means about 3,000 cartons are sold each day! The yearly average of milk sold is 538,560 cartons. Think of those poor cows!

The most popular lunch served is the plate lunch consisting of mainly hamburgers and tri-taters or french fries. When this is served, the cafeteria prepares 3,000 hamburgers.

Most students do not seem to like vegetables. Corn and beans are eaten, but not many other vegetables are. All of the food in the cafeteria is made in the morning, including all of the desserts. Considering all of this time and hard work, we would like to say "Thanks" to Mrs. Davis and her staff.

'77 Faculty Adds New Faces; Many From Covington Jr.

Leadership grows in every school. Students learn through activities, their subjects, teachers, parents, and community leaders. These people, along with the individual's personality, shape the type of leader he or she will be, good or bad. The underclassmen are on the bridge of self-instruction. Some are just beginning; others have nearly ended. These are the faces of the future leaders of our community.

Another year has come to a close. A year of frustrations, tears, laughter, happiness, confusion, order, responsibility, and leadership. All of which has been restored for YOU in the 1977 Lest We Forget by YOUR staff.

Many hours of slave-driving, hard work have gone into this book. We have worked every afternoon and night, and, on occasions, until 3:00 a.m. to provide YOU with something to remember YOUR year of 1977 with.

We had some help from behind-the-scenes workers who must be thanked.

First, we owe much appreciation to Mr. Greg Whalen, our publishing representative, for his advice and encouragement to see us through our rough spots.

Secondly, Betty Megerle and the photographers at Osborne Photo Labs have been tremendously patient with our picture rushing and long schedules.

Thirdly, thanks to Mr. Truitt, we were able to have various school groups photographed quickly in spite of our tight deadlines.

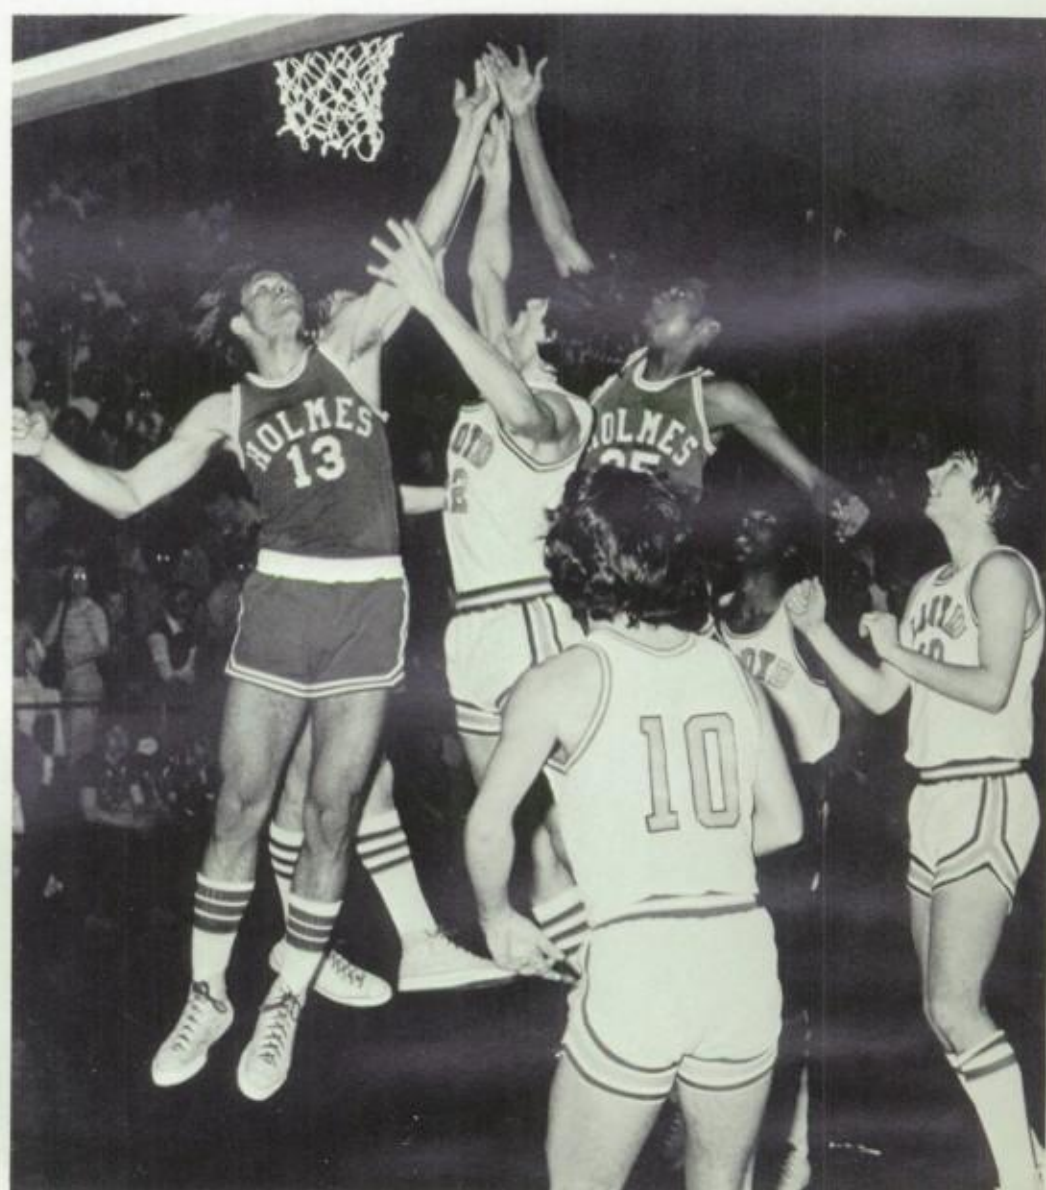

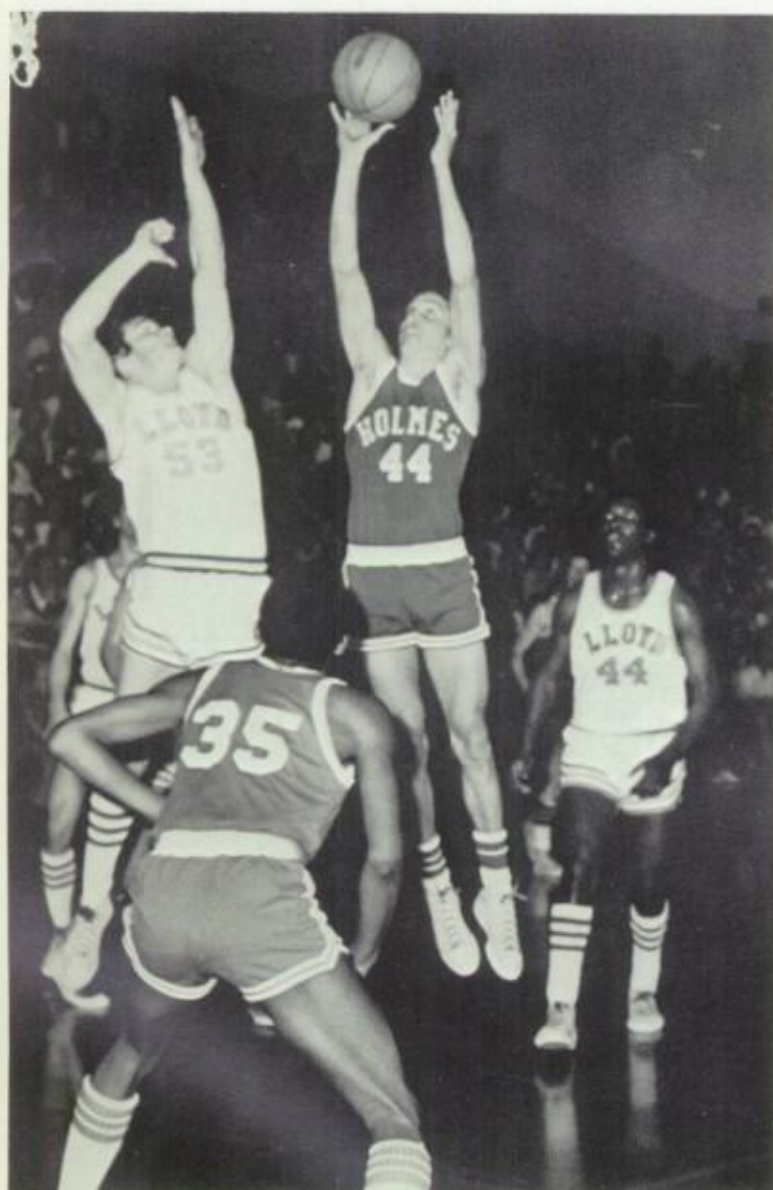

Lastly, a number of people have been extremely cooperative, including: the Board of Education, the principals and their secretaries, the sr. and jr. librarians, Mr. Huhn and Student Council, the Holmespun, Mr. Hemingway, Miss Clark, Miss Owens, Tony Rankin, Bill Huhn, George Starks, Tim Thomas, Dale Sprankel, Steve Thompson, Sandy Briede, Lisa Vanlandingham, Janet Keel, Mr. Bennett, the businesses for their ads, Mr. Meyers and the custodians, Mr. Tuppmann of the Vocational School, YOU, our subscribers, and anyone else we may have missed.

It has been a long, difficult climb, but the experiences felt today help us grow to be leaders of tomorrow. After our many years of leading, the 1977 Lest We Forget will take us back in time to the happiness, frustrations, laughter, tears, confusion, order, responsibility, and leadership of our high school days.

Red Line Takes 9th Region Title

Second Straight Trip to Louisville

Going into the Tournament as underdogs, the big RED line triumphed for the second straight year to become one of the "Sweet 16" to make the prestigious trip to Louisville's Freedom Hall.

In the opener, the Dogs humiliated a supposedly "tough" Bellevue squad, 115-56, setting two records in the process. When Mo Green sank points 112-13, he broke the old school scoring record for most points in one game. And Doug Schloemer, only a junior, broke the individual scoring record, putting in number 1632 early in the game.

Lloyd, rated #1 in the region most of the season, was the next victim, falling 64-56, with Schloemer, Roy Meyer and Ed Ross leading the way.

The championship was the thriller of the '77 season, as the Newport Wildcats, also rated #1 or 2 most of the season, jumped out to an early lead. The very physical contest was see-saw all the way, Mitch McIntosh and Leonard Slaughter leading Newport, while Doug, Eddie, and Roy, with clutch play from Mark Moeves, James Avery and Jim Humphrey, led the Bulldogs. With 10 seconds left, Newport led by one, but Holmes had the ball. After a timeout with five seconds to go, the ball wound up in Schloemer's hands and, with just two seconds on the clock, he swished a jumper from the side, sending the crowd into hysteria. Newport couldn't do anything with the one second they had, and the Dogs were Superdogs once again. Final score 77 - 76.

Hopes were higher than ever that the Bulldogs might win downstate. The team got a competitive draw in Murray, a team a bit smaller than ours. And we had been playing our best basketball of the season.

Alas, it was not to be. Though our offense was never better, firing a blistering 66% from the field, we were weak on defense, and Murray foul shooting was torrid.

Still, coach Flynn said that "It's always an honor to be represented among the best sixteen in the state. I was proud of this team." So were the rest of us. It was another thrilling, rewarding season.
